Says Ambassador Denies Statement

Muccio Is Reported to Have Said Fight in Korea Was Not Against Ideology of Communism; Praises Man

Washington, June 8 (AP)—A charge that U. S. Ambassador John Muccio once said the United Nations are not fighting communism in Korea was revived today at the Senate MacArthur inquiry. Secretary of State Acheson testified Muccio had said the report was "entirely incorrect."

Acheson was back in the witness chair for the seventh day at the hearings by the Senate Armed Services and Foreign Relations Committees on the dismissal of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Soon after the questioning began, Senator Bridges (R-N.H.) told Acheson he had received a letter from Rep. Hugh D. Scott, Jr. (R-Pa.) repeating charges that Ambassador Muccio tried to "convince me we were not fighting communism." Scott visited Korea last year.

In an exchange that followed, Acheson said Muccio is "one of our very finest men in the department" but that if it were proved he was "expressing thoughts which were unfair to the policy of the government or disloyal or anything else" he should be fired.

Scott's charges first came out last year.

Bridges said Scott had said in an Oct. 4, 1950, letter:

"You may be interested to know that our American ambassador to Korea tried to convince me that we were not fighting communism. He also defended the arming of the North Koreans by the Russians."

Talked to Scott

Bridges said he had talked to Scott, former Republican National Committee chairman, and had received a letter from him last Wednesday saying:

"Of course, Muccio's statement to me was made in the presence of Representative Henry J. Latham of New York and of four or five members of the embassy staff. I have no doubt that Muccio discussed the controversy with Acheson when Muccio was in this country some time ago."

Latham is a Republican.

Acheson said he had checked the charges with Muccio "and he

Big Crowds Greet Oil Delegates Who Reach Province

Commission Members Are Greeted as Heroes in Khuzistan; to Negotiate

Tehran, Iran, June 8 (AP)—Tehran radio said large crowds greeted the Iranian government's delegation arriving in Khuzistan today to take over the rich holdings of the British-owned Anglo-Iranian Oil Company and cheered them like conquering heroes.

The governor of Khuzistan Province, Shamseddin Amir Alaie, who is Premier Mohammed Mossadegh's personal deputy in the supervision of the seizure, said "the arrival of this board of directors is the first step of the Iranian people toward prosperity."

"With nationalization, a black page in Iranian history is closed and a golden page is opened," the governor said.

But the nationalization program still seemed to be marking time. The Iranian government's delegation will go on to Abadan, the oil port 170 miles away from Ahwaz, the Khuzistan capital, by Sunday. However, the British company's four-men delegation is not due there until Monday or Tuesday, and thus negotiations are not likely to get under way before midweek.

One of the Iranian delegation members, Ali Abadi, replied to the greetings of the Khuzistan governor at Ahwaz, stating that the duty of the board will be to "dominate the administration of the affairs of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company and increase the volume of production." He added that "with the oil nationalization, Iran ends foreign political and economic interference."

Dean Is Chosen

In Tehran, Parliament chose Mehedi Baz Argan, dean of engineering at Tehran University, to replace Mahmoud Hessabi on the three-man oil board of directors. Hessabi had complained that authority was too divided with three men at the top and wanted full authority himself. Baz Argan will go on to Abadan Saturday.

In Tehran there was no sign of alarm among the public over sensational press reports of Soviet troop movements on the northern border.

No Whereabouts Given

London, June 8 (AP)—The Foreign Office said today messages bearing the names of two missing British diplomats—and sent from Paris by a mysterious third person—fail to give a single clue as to their present whereabouts. William Ridsdale, head of the Foreign Office News Department, said three messages to relatives here appeared to have been composed by the vanished Britons, but were not in their handwriting.

Strike Is Threatened

Chicago, June 8 (AP)—About 900 union pilots of United Air Lines today are threatening to strike at key centers across the country. A spokesman for the Air Line Pilots Association who declined to be quoted by name said strike control points have been set up in Chicago and other major cities and that UAL pilots have been alerted to walk out at a moment's notice. UAL Officials could not be reached for comment immediately.

Plane Lands Safely

Shannon, Ireland, June 8 (AP)—A Pan American Airways Stratocruiser with 57 persons aboard landed safely with one engine dead at Shannon Airport today after a 2,000-mile flight over the North Atlantic. The big plane, en route to New York, developed engine trouble 1,000 miles at sea. The pilot came back on three engines. The aircraft made a routine landing without the usual precaution of a fire engine standing by.

Denies Confession

Washington, June 8 (AP)—Robert A. Vogeler today repudiated as rubbish the "confession" of sabotage and spying against Hungary he said he made in a Communist prison. The American business man freed April 28 when the State Department complied with Hungarian government demands, detailed for the first time his prison ordeal to the National Press Club.

PSC Will Resume Hearings June 19 For Phone Boost

Albany, N. Y., June 8 (AP)—The Public Service Commission will resume June 19 its hearing on a New York Telephone Company request for permission to boost rates by $44,000,000 a year.

The hearing was recessed yesterday after the firm had asked the PSC to reconsider a ruling that replacement costs of facilities could not be considered in determining "just and reasonable rates."

Cross-examination of company witnesses will begin when the hearing resumes.

The request for reconsideration of the ruling on replacement costs was made by Ralph W. Brown, vice-president and general counsel of the utility.

Commissioner Spencer B. Eddy, who is presiding at the hearing, indicated he would refer the question to the full commission.

Eddy announced May 24 that the PSC would not accept evidence relating to replacement costs of company facilities. He said the ruling was in line with the commission policy of basing rates of return on original investment costs.

The firm estimates that replacement of facilities would run $350,226,000 above the original cost.

Long State Probe Results From New York's Price War

36 Horses Perish In $250,000 Fire

Blaze Destroys Five Barns in Stable Area of Buffalo Raceway

Buffalo, N. Y., June 8 (AP)—Thirty-six harness race horses, valued at more than $100,000, were burned to death last night as a roaring fire destroyed five barns in the stable area at Buffalo Raceway.

Three hundred volunteer firemen from 10 communities around nearby Hamburg, home of the half-mile track, battled under trying conditions.

Frightened horses, driven out of the barns by their owners, raced loose through the area. Many of the 4,000 spectators on hand for the evening's eight-race program crowded in toward the barns to watch.

The fire was discovered about 8:20 p. m. (EST), just before the third race, by Frank Mays, a trainer. He said it looked like just a little blaze and he thought he could smother it himself. But in the few seconds it took him to run to it, the flames licked into a pile of straw and the first barn was doomed.

Mays and other trainers and drivers tried to lead horses from the barns, but many of the animals bolted and ran back inside.

Cause Not Determined

The fire was under control in less than an hour. James J. Dunnigan, president of the Buffalo Trotting Association, said the cause had not been determined. He estimated the total damage at $250,000.

Herman R. Grannis of Buffalo, a member of the State Harness Racing Commission, said an investigation would be launched immediately.

Among the horses lost was Archie Vologda, Class A pacer owned by Don Welch of Lock Haven, Pa. He reportedly turned down $20,000 for the horse last week.

Heaviest single loser in number of horses was Richard Nesbitt of

Trade Secrets of Retail Dealers to Come Under Inquiry; May Last Six Months

New York, June 8 (AP) — The city-wide sagging price war has touched off a lengthy New York state legislative probe into the trade secrets of the retail merchandising business.

As the bargain-buying rush slowed to a walk, the Legislature's Unfair Trade Practices Committee held a day-long hearing yesterday on complaints leveled chiefly at Macy's, which started hacking at fair-trade price tags more than a week ago.

Macy's was met price-for-price by Gimbel's, and the war spread through the city and to many other communities across the nation.

The New York state committee is headed by Assembly Democratic Minority Leader Irwin Steingut.

After hearing some two dozen witnesses, the committee held a closed session last night.

Later, it announced that the hearings probably would last six months or until the Legislature meets next January. Steingut said the committee will meet next in Buffalo, N. Y., but that no date had been set.

Most of the hearing witnesses criticized Macy's as having staged a "phony price war" as a "publicity stunt." Macy's made no comment.

A U. S. Supreme Court decision voiding a section of the Fair-Trade Act led the big store to start its price reductions on price-fixed brand-name merchandise.

Would Repeal Law

Yesterday in Washington, Rep. Tom Curtis (R.-Mo.) introduced legislation to repeal the price-fixing fair-trade law—known as the Miller-Tydings Act. Curtis told the House that the act sanctioned price-fixing agreements which led to "excessive prices."

Also in the nation's capital, Sen. John Sparkman (D.-Ala.), chairman of the Senate Small Business Committee, ordered a probe into the effect of the price battle on small business.

Although most "war-torn" items were listed as out of stock yesterday, there were some sharp reductions on other former price-fixed merchandise. Bottles of 100-tablet Bayer aspirin were cut from 59 to 12 cents. Dormeyer mixers dropped from $46.50 to $28.19. Universal coffematic percolators dipped from $29.95 to $18.88.

Sale Brings Action

A new entry in the cut-price struggle, the S. Klein store, partially revived the bargain-buying rush yesterday by selling, Bulova, Benrus and other set-price watches at 50 per cent off.

After about 500 watches were sold during the morning, Klein's offer was halted by a temporary court restraining order obtained by the Benrus and Bulova firms.

Following a legal skirmish, the store sold watches again in the afternoon — including Elgin, Longines-Wittnauer and Gruen timepieces at half-price.

A Benrus Company spokesman said, "they (Klein's) never sold watches before. Let them go back to selling dresses."

State Supreme Court Justice James B. McNally set 9 a. m. (EST) today for a hearing on motions by Benrus and Bulova asking temporary injunctions against Klein's.

Klein's insisted the watches

Hope Is Held for Ultimate End of Rheumatic Diseases

Atlantic City, N. J., June 8 (AP)—Hope was held out today for ultimate discovery of ways to prevent and cure such diseases as rheumatoid arthritis and rheumatic fever.

It stemmed from announcement of a new concept of the cause of the diseases announced by four Washington researchers: Dr. Thomas McPherson Brown and three associates of George Washington University School of Medicine and Mt. Alto Veterans' Administration Hospital.

They reported evidence which they said suggested the possibility that the whole class of "rheumatic diseases—probably the major cause of chronic illness in America today—may be due to an unusual type of microbe, called an "L organism."

This concept, they declared, may alter sharply the current concept that such diseases are primarily due to a deficiency of some substance produced in the body tissue.

And they said the theory offers an explanation of why the drugs ACTH and cortisone, which have shown promise in the control of certain rheumatic ills, produce temporary effect and therefore must be administered regularly.

If further research establishes that a specific germ is involved in rheumatic disease, they said, the way would then be opened to possible direct attack with drugs for the prevention of a full-blown attack or the overcoming of established symptoms.

Already, they reported, certain of the "antibiotic" drugs—terramucin, aureomicin and chlormycetin—have shown promising effects. But they added that on the basis of the new concept, more effective weapons might possibly be found.

The researchers made their report in the current issue of the American Journal of the Medical Sciences. Other members of the research team are Drs. Ruth H. Wichelhausen, William Merchant and Mrs. Lucille B. Robinson, a research bacteriologist.

UN Pounds Chorwon; Marshall at Front

Is Pleased With Show Of Troops

Says Visit Is Purely Military and Has No Connection on Peace Talks

Confers Six Hours

Defense Secretary Holds Lengthy Talk With Gen. Van Fleet

Tokyo, June 8 (AP)—U. S. Secretary of Defense George C. Marshall arrived tonight after a surprise visit to the Korean war zone and said the allied troops were "in wonderful shape."

Marshall, on his first visit since the Korean fighting began, said the purpose of his visit was "purely military."

"I came over to see the Eighth Army," Marshall told newsmen at suburban Haneda Airport, "and they are in wonderful shape. They couldn't be better."

Marshall said he had brought no new directives on the conduct of the war and added that his visit had no connection whatsoever with current peace negotiation discussions.

He was accompanied to Korea by Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, supreme commander of United Nations forces. He said that while in Korea he visited the First Corps and the First Cavalry Division and met all the foreign commanders.

Marshall told newsmen the last time he was in Korea was 37 years ago. Then he inspected battlegrounds of the Russo-Japanese war, part of which also was fought along the Yalu river.

Marshall and Ridgway conferred for almost six hours with Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, United Nations field commander, at U. S. Eighth Army headquarters in Korea.

Before visiting Van Fleet, Marshall flew to a division headquarters on the western front where doughboys battled to crack the Chinese Communists' "iron triangle."

It was Marshall's first visit to the Far East since 1946, when he returned from China after trying for six months to mediate a settlement between Chinese Nationalists and Communists.

His plane landed here at 10:55 p. m. (7:55 a. m., EST).

School Officials File Appeal in Fraud Case

New York, June 8 (AP)—Two officials of a beauty school and the corporation which operated the school, convicted Monday of conspiracy to defraud the Veterans' Administration, filed notice of appeal yesterday in Federal Court.

The two officers are Ora W. Grow and his wife, Dassie, of 23-57 33rd street, Astoria, Queens. The corporation is the Garford Laboratories, Inc., which operated the Grow System Beauty School, of 112 West 42nd street, Manhattan.

Grow received a seven-year sentence and $15,000 fine. Mrs. Grow was given a three-year sentence and $10,000 fine. The corporation was fined $70,000.

The defendants claimed in their notice of appeal that the verdict was contrary to law, and to evidence, and that their guilt had not been established beyond a reasonable doubt.

Refuses Reversal

Washington, June 8 (AP)—Price Director Michael V. DiSalle stood firm today in his refusal to budge from his decision to roll back beef prices twice more by fall. The Department of Agriculture, meanwhile, said uncertainty over the future of price program may be influencing farmers to hold back on sale of beef cattle. Authority for economic controls is contained in the National Defense Act due to expire June 30 unless extended by Congress.

Canal Builder Dies

Baltimore, June 8 (AP)—Joseph V. Hogan, 65, director and former president of the Arundel Corporation, died yesterday after a heart attack at his home here. He had helped direct construction of such projects as the Cape Cod Canal, the League Island Drydocks in Philadelphia and the drainage system in the Everglades.

School No. 1 Closing Is Voted by Trustees

Schedule Drafted By Board for New Year of 1951-52

Schools Will Be Opened September 4; Summer Sessions Begin July 1

Only two days over the prescribed number of days which are required for full participation in state money are included in the 1951-1952 school calendar adopted by the board of education Thursday night. These two days may be used for emergency closing such as stormy weather. During the past school year only one extra day was included in the calendar. This was considered too risky to again attempt.

Schools will open on Tuesday, September 4, the day after Labor Day and the final activities next spring will be on June 24, high school commencement.

Registration for summer school will be on Tuesday, July 1 and the summer school examinations will be on August 19 and 20.

Calendar for Year

The following calendar was adopted for 1951-1952:

1951

September 4th, Tuesday—School opens—First semester begins.

October 12th, Friday—Columbus Day—School not in session.

October 19, Friday—Teachers' Conference, Southeastern Zone meeting.

November 12th, Monday — Armistice Day—School not in session.

November 21st, Wednesday—12 o'clock noon—School closes for Thanksgiving Recess.

December 21st, Friday—3 p. m.

Pupils to Attend No. 8 at End of Present Term

The Board of Education Thursday night voted unanimously to close School No. 1 at the close of the school year.

Opposition to the closing of School No. 1 in the Wilbur section of the city was voiced by a delegation of taxpayers and parents at the meeting.

Francis J. O'Neill appeared as spokesman for the group with several of the members also taking part in the discussion, including Alderman Charles J. Cole of the 13th ward.

There has been discussion for some time over the advisability of closing the school which has dropped in registration from well over 100 a few years ago to its present registration of 46 students. Members of the board expressed an opinion that with only two teachers, each required to instruct several grades, it has been impossible to give the students the same educational opportunity as that offered in other schools.

Following the decision to close the school at the end of the present term, the board voted to have the children of the Wilbur section transferred to School No. 8 until the new Washington School is completed when they will attend that school. The pupils will be transported to school by bus.

Urges Move Schools

In presenting their argument in opposition to the closing of the school the members of the delegation argued that more schools, not fewer were needed in Kingston. Mr. O'Neil contended that the city was sorely in need of cultural development and that it was not fair to close the school in that area of the city. He said it indicated the board's feeling that the Wilbur section of the city was devoid of future community development. He said that the individual instruction which has been possible in No. 1 would be gone and the closing would mean regimentation of the pupils in larger schools. He asked that the school be maintained and that the rooms not used for school purposes be put to other use. He suggested the school be used for study clubs or other cultural purposes.

Parents present objected to sending students from the area to No. 2 school, which O'Neill referred to as a "fire-trap."

President Rowland objected to this reference and said the rating of No. 2 by the fire officials was of the highest, he said the board had spent a considerable amount of money to install fire escapes and otherwise improve the building. He also said there was ample room in the schools to accommodate all of the No. 1 students if the school was closed. When the Washington school is completed he intimated to the delegation, the students would be sent there. Later the board voted to do that.

One of the speakers asked why No. 1 was not used to care for non-resident pupils who are now taken to No. 7 or elsewhere. By using the full facilities of the

Colonials to Admit Fans Free to Game

Directors Approve Move for Arclight Tilt on Saturday

Baseball fans will be admitted free to the municipal stadium for the Kingston Colonial-Gloversville game Saturday night, general manager Addison Jones of Kingston Baseball Club, Inc., announced at noon today.

Jones gave no reason for the unprecedented move, except to say it had been authorizd by the club's board of directors.

A similar stunt in Gloversville Wednesday, however, attracted nearly 3,000 spectators and aroused enough public interest to guarantee continuation of the Gloversville franchise in the Canadian-American League.

Kingston officials served notice on the Canadian-American League yesterday that they would not continue after June 14.

So here's a good and, perhaps, last chance to see the Colonials—and for free!

24-Hour Guards Assigned Three in Graft Crackdown

New York, June 8 (AP)—Twenty-four hour police guards have been assigned to a judge and two prosecutors in the Brooklyn police graft crackdown, newspapers reported today.

Police Commissioner Thomas F. Murphy denied it. But partial confirmation came from the judge.

The guards were reported assigned to Kings County Judge Samuel S. Leibowitz, District Attorney Miles F. McDonald and McDonald's top assistant in the graft investigation, Julius Helfand.

McDonald said he knew of no guard being placed on him. Reached at Ballston Spa, N. Y., McDonald said he and Helfand drove upstate together yesterday and no one accompanied them.

McDonald and Helfand went upstate to attend the convention of the New York State District Attorneys Association at Lake George.

There were newspaper reports that the guards were assigned because of threats of violence voiced last Monday after a retired patrolman leaped to death from a court house window as he was about to go on trial.

The guards reportedly began their assignment Wednesday on orders from Murphy after he had been advised by McDonald's office of the threats.

Yesterday, a uniformed policeman was in Leibowitz's court facing the spectators. The judge was accompanied home by a detective.

Answering newsmen's questions, Leibowitz said:

"The police guard was assigned at the request of the district attorney, made to the police commissioner. I know the reason for the request, but I can't discuss it."

The suicide was Charles N. Panarella, former plainclothes policeman. He and 20 police codefendants were waiting for the start of their trial on charges of protecting the $20,000,000-a-year bookmaking ring of Harry Gross, who is awaiting sentence. The trial was postponed until September.

Small Gains Are Made Against Foe

Day-Long Artillery Duel Rages on West Front; Enemy Forces Use New Weapon

Block Attempts

Three Communist Units Block Allied Drive to Close In

By OLEN CLEMENTS

Tokyo, June 8 (AP)—U.N. forces hammered Friday at suddenly stiffened resistance before Chorwon, gateway to the Reds vital "iron triangle" on which their whole position in Korea depends.

The Eighth Army reported gains of up to a mile, and slightly over that in drives up to the central front. Tanks rammed up one road for three miles without trouble. These blows were aimed at Kumhwa, eastern anchor of the triangle.

But in the west, three Chinese battalions blocked all allied attempts to get closer to Chorwon up to mid-afternoon, the Eighth Army reported. Later front dispatches reported allies hacked their way for two miles through mud, slime and deeply dug in Reds. Censorship prevented dispatches from saying whether this carried troops to the gates of the city.

In the east it was a hacking advance over ridges; or no gain at all.

Rip Escape Roads

The day-long artillery duel roared on the western front within ear shot of where Marshall conferred with top U.N. field commanders.

Allied shells screamed down from the heights into Chorwon, ripped escape roads and burst in hills were the Reds were entrenched.

Chinese Communists opened flood gates and employed a powerful new type anti-tank gun in efforts to halt the relentless approach of United Nations ground forces.

Chorwon and Kumhwa are entries to the Reds' buildup and supply area, and center of a vital road network.

The area was blanketed with fragmentation bombs last night by 23 UN bombers. They used radar technique. Far East Air Forces said 9,000,000 bomb fragments splattered over the triangle in "one of the heaviest operations of its kind."

There were signs the Reds were shifting their weight eastward from the triangle. UN officers said the shift indicated the Reds were moving toward Wonsan, east coast port at the end of Pyongyang valley. Wonsan has been shelled daily by allied warships for nearly four months. It is about 85 air miles north of the 38th Parallel.

Fiercest fighting was east of the triangle in the Yanggu-Inje area. Allied infantrymen clawed up ridges. With grenades and bayonets they dug North Koreans out of fortified dugouts and deep foxholes where they have withstood artillery and bombing for days.

Dig New Hiding Places

All along the front Reds are digging new hiding places from air attack. They are drafting civilians to speed the job of going underground, said Maj. Gen. Frank F. Everest, commander of the 5th Air Force.

New tunnels are dug wherever there are no available railroad tunnels, mines or caves in which they can hide from fire and fragmentation bombs.

There was no cover for Chinese still in Chowon. UN artillery was looking down their throats from a 2,700 foot high mountain (Kodae).

The fire was under control in less than an hour. James J. Dunnigan, president of the Buffalo Trotting Association, said the cause had not been determined. He estimated the total damage at $250,000.

Herman R. Grannis of Buffalo, a member of the State Harness Racing Commission, said an investigation would be launched immediately.

Among the horses lost was Archie Vologda, Class A pacer owned by Don Welch of Lock Haven, Pa. He reportedly turned down $20,000 for the horse last week.

Heaviest single loser in number of horses was Richard Nesbitt of

Trade Secrets of Retail Dealers to Come Under Inquiry; May Last Six Months

New York, June 8 (AP)—The city-wide sagging price war has touched off a lengthy New York state legislative probe into the trade secrets of the retail merchandising business.

As the bargain-buying rush slowed to a walk, the Legislature's Unfair Trade Practices Committee held a day-long hearing yesterday on complaints leveled chiefly at Macy's, which started hacking at fair-trade price tags more than a week ago.

Macy's was met price-for-price by Gimbel's, and the war spread through the city and to many other communities across the nation.

The New York state committee is headed by Assembly Democratic Minority Leader Irwin Steingut.

After hearing some two dozen witnesses, the committee held a closed session last night.

Later, it announced that the hearings probably would last six months or until the Legislature meets next January. Steingut said the committee will meet next in Buffalo, N. Y., but that no date had been set.

Most of the hearing witnesses criticized Macy's as having staged a "phony price war" as a "publicity stunt." Macy's made no comment.

A U. S. Supreme Court decision voiding a section of the Fair-Trade Act led the big store to start its price reductions on price-fixed brand-name merchandise.

Would Repeal Law

Yesterday in Washington, Rep. Tom Curtis (R.-Mo.) introduced legislation to repeal the price-fixing fair-trade law—known as the Miller-Tydings Act. Curtis told the House that the act sanctioned price-fixing agreements which led to "excessive prices."

Also in the nation's capital, Sen. John Sparkman (D.-Ala.), chairman of the Senate Small Business Committee, ordered a probe into the effect of the price battle on small business.

Although most "war-torn" items were listed as out of stock yesterday, there were some sharp reductions on other former price-fixed merchandise. Bottles of 100-tablet Bayer aspirin were cut from 59 to 12 cents. Dormeyer mixers dropped from $46.50 to $28.19. Universal coffematic percolators dipped from $29.95 to $18.88.

Sale Brings Action

A new entry in the cut-price struggle, the S. Klein store, partially revived the bargain-buying rush yesterday by selling, Bulova, Benrus and other set-price watches at 50 per cent off.

After about 500 watches were sold during the morning, Klein's offer was halted by a temporary court restraining order obtained by the Benrus and Bulova firms.

Following a legal skirmish, the store sold watches again in the afternoon—including Elgin, Longines-Wittnauer and Gruen timepieces at half-price.

A Benrus Company spokesman said, "they (Klein's) never sold watches before. Let them go back to selling dresses."

State Supreme Court Justice James B. McNally set 9 a. m. (EST) today for a hearing on motions by Benrus and Bulova asking temporary injunctions against Klein's.

Klein's insisted the watches

PSC Will Resume Hearings June 19 For Phone Boost

Albany, N. Y., June 8 (AP)—The Public Service Commission will resume June 19 its hearing on a New York Telephone Company request for permission to boost rates by $44,000,000 a year.

The hearing was recessed yesterday after the firm had asked the PSC to reconsider a ruling that replacement costs of facilities could not be considered in determining "just and reasonable rates."

Cross-examination of company witnesses will begin when the hearing resumes.

The request for reconsideration of the ruling on replacement costs was made by Ralph W. Brown, vice-president and general counsel of the utility.

Commissioner Spencer B. Eddy, who is presiding at the hearing, indicated he would refer the question to the full commission.

Eddy announced May 24 that the PSC would not accept evidence relating to replacement costs of company facilities. He said the ruling was in line with the commission policy of basing rates of return on original investment costs.

The firm estimates that replacement of facilities would run $350,-226,000 above the original cost.

Hope Is Held for Ultimate End of Rheumatic Diseases

Atlantic City, N. J., June 8 (AP)—Hope was held out today for ultimate discovery of ways to prevent and cure such diseases as rheumatoid arthritis and rheumatic fever.

It stemmed from announcement of a new concept of the cause of the diseases announced by four Washington researchers: Dr. Thomas McPherson Brown and three associates of George Washington University School of Medicine and Mt. Alto Veterans' Administration Hospital.

They reported evidence which they said suggested the possibility that the whole class of "rheumatic diseases—probably the major cause of chronic illness in America today—may be due to an unusual type of microbe, called an "L organism."

This concept, they declared, may alter sharply the current concept that such diseases are primarily due to a deficiency of some substance produced in the body tissue.

And they said the theory offers an explanation of why the drugs ACTH and cortisone, which have shown promise in the control of certain rheumatic ills, produce temporary effect and therefore must be administered regularly.

If further research establishes that a specific germ is involved in rheumatic disease, they said, the way would then be opened to possible direct attack with drugs for the prevention of a full-blown attack or the overcoming of established symptoms.

Already, they reported, certain of the "antibiotic" drugs—terramucin, aureomicin and chlormycetin—have shown promising effects. But they added that on the basis of the new concept, more effective weapons might possibly be found.

The researchers made their report in the current issue of the American Journal of the Medical Sciences. Other members of the research team are Drs. Ruth H. Wichelhausen, William Merchant and Mrs. Lucille B. Robinson, a research bacteriologist.

Is Pleased With Show Of Troops

Says Visit Is Purely Military and Has No Connection on Peace Talks

Confers Six Hours

Defense Secretary Holds Lengthy Talk With Gen. Van Fleet

Tokyo, June 8 (AP)—U. S. Secretary of Defense George C. Marshall arrived tonight after a surprise visit to the Korean war zone and said the allied troops were "in wonderful shape."

Marshall, on his first visit since the Korean fighting began, said the purpose of his visit was "purely military."

"I came over to see the Eighth Army," Marshall told newsmen at suburban Haneda Airport, "and they are in wonderful shape. They couldn't be better."

Marshall said he had brought no new directives on the conduct of the war and added that his visit had no connection whatsoever with current peace negotiation discussions.

He was accompanied to Korea by Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, supreme commander of United Nations forces. He said that while in Korea he visited the First Corps and the First Cavalry Division and met all the foreign commanders.

Marshall told newsmen the last time he was in Korea was 57 years ago. Then he inspected battlegrounds of the Russo-Japanese war, part of which also was fought along the Yalu river.

Marshall and Ridgway conferred for almost six hours with Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, United Nations field commander, at U. S. Eighth Army headquarters in Korea.

Before visiting Van Fleet, Marshall flew to a division headquarters on the western front where doughboys battled to crack the Chinese Communists' "iron triangle."

It was Marshall's first visit to the Far East since 1946, when he returned from China after trying for six months to mediate a settlement between Chinese Nationalists and Communists.

His plane landed here at 10:55 p. m. (7:55 a. m., EST).

School Officials File Appeal in Fraud Case

New York, June 8 (AP)—Two officials of a beauty school and the corporation which operated the school, convicted Monday of conspiracy to defraud the Veterans' Administration, filed notice of appeal yesterday in Federal Court.

The two officers are Ora W. Grow and his wife, Dassie, of 23-57 33rd street, Astoria, Queens. The corporation is the Garford Laboratories, Inc., which operated the Grow System Beauty School, of 112 West 42nd street, Manhattan.

Grow received a seven-year sentence and $15,000 fine. Mrs. Grow was given a three-year sentence and $10,000 fine. The corporation was fined $70,000.

The defendants claimed in their notice of appeal that the verdict was contrary to law, and to evidence, and that their guilt had not been established beyond a reasonable doubt.

Refuses Reversal

Washington, June 8 (AP)—Price Director Michael V. DiSalle stood firm today in his refusal to budge from his decision to roll back beef prices twice more by fall. The Department of Agriculture, meanwhile, said uncertainty over the future of price program may be influencing farmers to hold back on sale of beef cattle. Authority for economic controls is contained in the National Defense Act due to expire June 30 unless extended by Congress.

Canal Builder Dies

Baltimore, June 8 (AP)—Joseph V. Hogan, 65, director and former president of the Arundel Corporation, died yesterday after a heart attack at his home here. He had helped direct construction of such projects as the Cape Cod Canal, the League Island Drydocks in Philadelphia and the drainage system in the Everglades.

School No. 1 Closing Is Voted by Trustees

Schedule Drafted By Board for New Year of 1951-52

Schools Will Be Opened September 4; Summer Sessions Begin July 1

Only two days over the prescribed number of days which are required for full participation in state money are included in the 1951-1952 school calendar adopted by the board of education Thursday night. These two days may be used for emergency closing such as stormy weather. During the past school year only one extra day was included in the calendar. This was considered too risky to again attempt.

Schools will open on Tuesday, September 4, the day after Labor Day and the final activities next spring will be on June 24, high school commencement.

Registration for summer school will be on Tuesday, July 1 and the summer school examinations will be on August 19 and 20.

Calendar for Year

The following calendar was adopted for 1951-1952:

1951

September 4th, Tuesday—School opens—First semester begins.

October 12th, Friday—Columbus Day—School not in session.

October 19, Friday—Teachers' Conference, Southeastern Zone meeting.

November 12th, Monday—Armistice Day—School not in session.

November 21st, Wednesday—12 o'clock noon—School closes for Thanksgiving Recess.

December 21st, Friday—3 p. m.

Pupils to Attend No. 8 at End of Present Term

The Board of Education Thursday night voted unanimously to close School No. 1 at the close of the school year.

Opposition to the closing of School No. 1 in the Wilbur section of the city was voiced by a delegation of taxpayers and parents at the meeting.

Francis J. O'Neill appeared as spokesman for the group with several of the members also taking part in the discussion, including Alderman Charles J. Cole of the 13th ward.

There has been discussion for some time over the advisability of closing the school which has dropped in registration from well over 100 a few years ago to its present registration of 46 students. Members of the board expressed an opinion that with only two teachers, each required to instruct several grades, it has been impossible to give the students the same educational opportunity as that offered in other schools.

Following the decision to close the school at the end of the present term, the board voted to have the children of the Wilbur section transferred to School No. 8 until the new Washington School is completed when they will attend that school. The pupils will be transported to school by bus.

Urges Move Schools

In presenting their argument in opposition to the closing of the school the members of the delegation argued that more schools, not fewer were needed in Kingston. Mr. O'Neil contended that the city was sorely in need of cultural development and that it was not fair to close the school in that area of the city. He said it indicated the board's feeling that the Wilbur section of the city was devoid of future community development. He said that the individual instruction which has been possible in No. 1 would be gone and the closing would mean regimentation of the pupils in larger schools. He asked that the school be maintained and that the rooms not used for school purposes be put to other use. He suggested the school be used for study clubs or other cultural purposes.

Parents present objected to sending students from the area to No. 2 school, which O'Neill referred to as a "fire-trap."

President Rowland objected to this reference and said the rating of No. 2 by the fire officials was of the highest, he said the board had spent a considerable amount of money to install fire escapes and otherwise improve the building. He also said there was ample room in the schools to accommodate all of the No. 1 students if the school was closed. When the Washington school is completed he intimated to the delegation, the students would be sent there. Later the board voted to do that.

One of the speakers asked why No. 1 was not used to care for non-resident pupils who are now taken to No. 7 or elsewhere. By using the full facilities of the

Colonials to Admit Fans Free to Game

Directors Approve Move for Arclight Tilt on Saturday

Baseball fans will be admitted free to the municipal stadium for the Kingston Colonial-Gloversville game Saturday night, general manager Addison Jones of Kingston Baseball Club, Inc., announced at noon today.

Jones gave no reason for the unprecedented move, except to say it had been authorizd by the club's board of directors.

A similar stunt in Gloversville Wednesday, however, attracted nearly 3,000 spectators and aroused enough public interest to guarantee continuation of the Gloversville franchise in the Canadian-American League.

Kingston officials served notice on the Canadian-American League yesterday that they would not continue after June 14.

So here's a good and, perhaps, last chance to see the Colonials—and for free!

24-Hour Guards Assigned Three in Graft Crackdown

New York, June 8 (AP)—Twenty-four hour police guards have been assigned to a judge and two prosecutors in the Brooklyn police graft crackdown, newspapers reported today.

Police Commissioner Thomas F. Murphy denied it. But partial confirmation came from the judge.

The guards were reported assigned to Kings County Judge Samuel S. Leibowitz, District Attorney Miles F. McDonald and McDonald's top assistant in the graft investigation, Julius Helfand.

McDonald said he knew of no guard being placed on him. Reached at Ballston Spa, N. Y., McDonald said he and Helfand drove upstate together yesterday and no one accompanied them.

McDonald and Helfand went upstate to attend the convention of the New York State District Attorneys Association at Lake George.

There were newspaper reports that the guards were assigned because of threats of violence voiced last Monday after a retired patrolman leaped to death from a court house window as he was about to go on trial.

The guards reportedly began their assignment Wednesday on orders from Murphy after he had been advised by McDonald's office of the threats.

Yesterday, a uniformed policeman was in Leibowitz's court facing the spectators. The judge was accompanied home by a detective.

Answering newsmen's questions, Leibowitz said:

"The police guard was assigned at the request of the district attorney, made to the police commissioner. I know the reason for the request, but I can't discuss it."

The suicide was Charles N. Panarella, former plainclothes policeman. He and 20 police co-defendants were waiting for the start of their trial on charges of protecting the $20,000,000-a-year bookmaking ring of Harry Gross, who is awaiting sentence. The trial was postponed until September.

Small Gains Are Made Against Foe

Day-Long Artillery Duel Rages on West Front; Enemy Forces Use New Weapon

Block Attempts

Three Communist Units Block Allied Drive to Close In

By OLEN CLEMENTS

Tokyo, June 8 (AP)—U.N. forces hammered Friday at suddenly stiffened resistance before Chorwon, gateway to the Reds vital "iron triangle" on which their whole position in Korea depends.

The Eighth Army reported gains of up to a mile, and slightly over that in drives up to the central front. Tanks rammed up one road for three miles without trouble. These blows were aimed at Kumhwa, eastern anchor of the triangle.

But in the west, three Chinese battalions blocked all allied attempts to get closer to Chorwon up to mid-afternoon, the Eighth Army reported. Later front dispatches reported allies hacked their way for two miles through mud, slime and deeply dug in Reds. Censorship prevented dispatches from saying whether this carried troops to the gates of the city.

In the east it was a hacking advance over ridges; or no gain at all.

Rip Escape Roads

The day-long artillery duel roared on the western front within ear shot of where Marshall conferred with top U.N. field commanders.

Allied shells screamed down from the heights into Chorwon, ripped escape roads and burst in hills were the Reds were entrenched.

Chinese Communists opened flood gates and employed a powerful new type anti-tank gun in efforts to halt the relentless approach of United Nations ground forces.

Chorwon and Kumhwa are entries to the Reds' buildup and supply area, and center of a vital road network.

The area was blanketed with fragmentation bombs last night by 23 UN bombers. They used radar technique. Far East Air Forces said 9,000,000 bomb fragments splattered over the triangle in "one of the heaviest operations of its kind."

There were signs the Reds were shifting their weight eastward from the triangle. UN officers said the shift indicated the Reds were moving toward Wonsan, east coast port at the end of Pyongyang valley. Wonsan has been shelled daily by allied warships for nearly four months. It is about 85 air miles north of the 38th Parallel.

Fiercest fighting was east of the triangle in the Yanggu-Inje area. Allied infantrymen clawed up ridges. With grenades and bayonets they dug North Koreans out of fortified dugouts and deep foxholes where they have withstood artillery and bombing for days.

Dig New Hiding Places

All along the front Reds are digging new hiding places from air attack. They are drafting civilians to speed the job of going underground, said Maj. Gen. Frank F. Everest, commander of the 5th Air Force.

New tunnels are dug wherever there are no available railroad tunnels, mines or caves in which they can hide from fire and fragmentation bombs.

There was no cover for Chinese still in Chowon. UN artillery was looking down their throats from a 2,700 foot high mountain (Kodae).

BOOKS IN TELEVISION

"If you can't lick them, join them." This familiar advice may have inspired the Cleveland Public Library's recent announcement that it plans to go in for educational television. It expects to apply for a station license, and see what it can do with television, if the license is granted, to guide its patrons back to books and reading.

Reports from the main library and its branches indicate that television has cut into book reading, as it has into other forms of recreational activity. On the other hand, when a famous book has been the subject of a telecast, those who have seen it are apt to come to the library and read it for themselves. Stimulation of book demand in this way will be the library's aim.

Recreation is only one of the modern library's fields of usefulness. It prides itself on furnishing needed information and helping the business and other serious demands of its readers. Probably telecasts can be devised which will call attention to these helpful functions. Television perhaps can increase reading.

FOUR BILLION SMOKES

The output of cigarettes in the United States has reached a new record in the 1950-51 year. Production for the year has been at the rate of almost half a pack per day for every man, woman and child. Presumably the smoking of them must also have reached a new peak. The Department of Agriculture reports that consumption of cigarettes per person of 15 years or older increased 270 per cent from 1925 to 1950.

Statistics on cigarette-smoking always provoke questions about the reasons for its growth, and the significance of it. The common answers are not highly informative, and do not always hang together. One explanation for the recent increase, for example, is that personal incomes are higher. On the other hand it is often said that individuals smoke more when they are worried or depressed. They say people smoke more when they have less to do, yet the past year, in which the record has been set, has been an extraordinarily busy time.

One conclusion seems unquestionable: the cigarette has established its supremacy in popularity over other forms of tobacco. If one question is to be sought for which someone in any ordinary small group of adults will surely have an affirmative answer, that question is this: "Anyone have a cigarette?"

THE CHANGING TIMES

Editors, like everyone else, have changed their viewpoint in the last century and a half. A student, going through the files of Niles' Weekly Register, which from 1811 to 1849 was the leading news magazine of the United States, found several references to Niagara Falls and its surroundings. Each one contained an allusion to a certain restaurant on the Canadian side of the falls, commenting bluntly that it was no good and should be avoided. At this distance it is impossible to say whether the editor was taking out a grudge or the restaurant was really as bad as he said.

Nowadays newspapers and magazines are less apt to drag in derogatory matter of this kind. They are also less given to inserting personal puffs, and that is all to the good.

Dad is a handy fellow to have around—especially if his shirts and suits fit junior.

TAKE IT EASY, VOICE

In a fresh effort to talk to people behind the Iron Curtain on their own terms, the Voice of America recently began broadcasting to Georgia, the province of southern Russia where Stalin was born, in the native Georgian tongue.

This is the sort of thing American propaganda needs more of. We need to let enslaved peoples everywhere know we are thinking about them, that we have some understanding of their problems as they see them, that we want America to stand as a symbol of hope for them.

But we must stop short of making promises we can't fulfill. For instance, we wouldn't want the Georgians to expect U. S. armies soon to come marching through Georgia.

'These Days'

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

THE VOICE OF AMERICA

The "Voice of America" is an agency employed by the government of the United States to inform the world about this country. The measure of its effectiveness can only be the increased evidences of friendship for this country in various parts of the world. If we win friends, the "Voice of America" is of value; otherwise, it is a wasted expenditure.

In a word, the yardstick for this agency, as for any other, can only be the degree of success with which it achieves its designated task.

Dean Acheson fought for four hours to keep the Senate committee from making public an instruction, dated December 23, 1949, lest it be discovered that what the "Voice of America" and other public information sources of the United States said was untrue when they said it. The gist of his argument was that this document in the hands of Soviet Russia would give that country an opportunity to conduct a propaganda to show that the "Voice of America" spoke falsely.

The Russell Committee, correctly, by a vote of 15 to 9, made the document public. It was an instruction to lie. Dean Acheson accepted responsibility for it. Generals MacArthur, Marshall, Bradley, Collins, Vandenberg, Admiral Sherman and Dean Acheson himself have testified in such language as to establish without the possibility of doubt that what Dean Acheson wrote in his instruction of December 23, 1949, concerning Formosa was untrue then, is untrue now, and has never been the policy of the United States.

Acheson himself has stated:

"Throughout that period (that is, from October 1948 to June 25, 1950) there was one policy, and one policy only, which was adopted by the government . . . this policy was unanimously recommended to the President of the United States by all the departments concerned, and was approved by him. . . .

"That policy was as follows: First of all, it was understood and agreed that Formosa had strategic importance so far as the United States was concerned.

"The second point was that strategic importance related to keeping Formosa out of the hands of a power which would be hostile to the United States, and did not concern occupying or using Formosa by the United States."

In his instruction to the information officers, Acheson says that Formosa "politically, geographically, and strategically, is part of China in no way especially distinguished or important." He told them to use their material to "counter the false impressions" that "its loss would seriously damage the interests of either the United States or of other countries opposing communism." Again he said: "Formosa has no special military significance."

Naturally, it is a serious matter to be caught telling officers of our country to say what is not true. It becomes more serious as a war developed out of the confusion of our policy in Asia.

The total number of the instruction issued was 456 copies. In Tokyo, this leaked, almost immediately, to the United Press correspondent, Earnest Hoberecht, and its contents were published correctly in American newspapers. Although the "Voice of America" speaks only outside the United States, the "New York Herald Tribune," on December 29, 1949, said that the joint chiefs of staff and the secretary of state, Dean Acheson, had argued successfully against American defense of Formosa on the grounds that the island was not vital to United States security, that Chiang's Nationalists could not be trusted to use American aid.

We now know from Generals MacArthur, Marshall, Bradley, Collins, etc., and from Dean Acheson himself that this was not the American view. What found its way into the American press, of which this is an example, was Acheson's instructions to the "Voice of America."

On January 5, 1950 President Truman announced that the United States would take no action, direct or indirect, to help Chiang hold Formosa. Compare that with Dean Acheson's testimony quoted above! Truman's statement was made to contradict proposals made by Herbert Hoover and Robert A. Taft on January 2, in support of Formosa.

In his January 5 statement, President Truman said what could not have been true at any time, namely that:

". . . The resources on Formosa are adequate to enable them to obtain the items which they might consider necessary for the defense of the island. . . ."

The evidence now publicly available disproves the correctness of that statement. The testimony before the Russell Committee is that the joint chiefs of staff and the State Department did not hold to that view then.

That Body of Yours

NEW HOPES FOR HEARTS

When Drs. Banting and Best taught the medical profession that diabetes, the formerly fatal disease, could be controlled by insulin, and Drs. Minot and Murphy taught physicians that the always fatal disease, pernicious anemia, could be controlled by liver and later by liver extracts, it was but natural that research workers would try to find the cause and then the prevention and treatment of heart disease, which kills three times as many as cancer. Heart and blood vessel diseases kill more people than the next five leading causes of death combined. It is only natural, therefore, that an organization to make the big fight against heart and blood vessel diseases should be sponsored by the American Heart Association and its branches throughout the United States and Canada.

In a previous article I wrote about the Annual Heart Fund, collected from those interested in saving or prolonging the lives of men, women and children. I wrote of how the funds thus collected were distributed to various hospital clinics and to laboratories doing special work in the investigation of heart disease. However, the greater portion of the funds raised are retained by the local affiliated heart organization to support their own needed heart disease service. The heart disease community service provided by each branch of the American Heart Association includes improvement of diagnosis equipment and other facilities, rehabilitation of industrial workers suffering with heart and blood vessel diseases and projects for easing the burden of housewives with heart disease.

The slogan of the American Heart Organization, "New Hopes for Hearts" strikes a keynote of optimistic determination based on past gains and anticipated victories in the fight on heart disease.

It is pointed out that while heart disease kills off so many, if all the facts already known about it were known to all of us, it would prevent groundless fear and encourage positive action. It no longer need be said that once you have heart disease or have an attack (coronary thrombosis) you are likely to die soon.

People are being encouraged to protect their hearts through regular medical examinations, making possible early discovery of heart disease and hence early treatment.

Italian Renaissance

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington — Apparently it doesn't pay to tell Congress how General Motors gets favored treatment on steel allocations. The government official who had the nerve to do so, Col. William S. Knight, has now been squeezed out of his job.

Col. Knight is the official inside the National Production Authority who testified before Congressman Manny Celler's monopoly committee regarding 4,563 tons of steel which the NPA allotted to General Motors, at the very same time four other NPA applications for steel made by locomotive companies were conveniently "lost."

Knight was advised by his associates in the NPA not to testify. However, when called before the congressional committee, he told the truth. His testimony gave insight on what has been going on inside this vital war agency which allocates steel and other precious materials to industry.

Melvin Cole, a vice president of Bethlehem Steel, on loan to the government at no salary, okayed the extra 4,563 tons of steel to General Motors. So also did Henry Rankin, loaned to the NPA by Republic Steel. Both Republic and Bethlehem do a land-office business with General Motors.

Meanwhile, Baldwin locomotives, which wanted extra steel for 45 locomotives, had its application "lost." So did three other companies which had no one inside the NPA. Twice Col. Knight put through their allocations, but twice they got "lost."

After Col. Knight testified, his chief, Franz Stone, also on loan to the government by the Columbus McKinnon Chain Co., held an emergency meeting in his office until nearly midnight. Stone's company also does business with General Motors. Next morning, the NPA personnel officer, Herschell Snead, handed Col. Knight a typed resignation and asked him to sign it.

Knight hesitated. Several days passed. It became clear that if he didn't get out peacefully he would be boycotted and isolated. All papers usually routed to him, were routed around him. Matt Tate, who had bawled him out for testifying before Congress, was appointed to the job Knight had been promised — assistant chief of the division. Finally, Knight signed the resignation handed him by the personnel office.

A New England railroad man, he is going back to Lyndonville, Vt., where he came from.

Note—A steady stream of industry men, working "WOC"—"without compensation," have operated the National Production Authority. Since they are paid by their own companies, not by the government, their first loyalty frequently is to their company. Some companies even make it a policy to plant men inside key government agencies to make sure their friends are favored.

Soviet Lights Burn Late

Most important topic of conversation in the diplomatic corps these days is the way the United States is revealing priceless secrets of war strategy to a potential enemy in the Kremlin.

Foreign military attaches and diplomats are reading every line of the Senate hearings on MacArthur and sending voluminous copies back to their governments as a future textbook on what this country will do in case of war. They say that never in modern history have they seen so complete a revelation of important policies supposed to be kept secret.

Friendly diplomats have expressed private concern over the MacArthur hearings. Unfriendly diplomats are eating up the hearings like duck soup. It is estimated in diplomatic circles that the MacArthur revelations will save the Soviet several million dollars of intelligence money which it otherwise would have spent in this country.

Military attaches point out that it is common practice for a foreign army to spend months studying the personality of one important military leader, such as Gen. Omar Bradley, and how he will react in certain situations. The United States, for instance, brought Gen. Al Wedemeyer into the war plans division during the war because he had previously been stationed in Berlin and knew the personalities and habits of certain German generals.

Outguessing the enemy is one of the fundamentals of war. That's why this information is so important.

Now, as a result of the MacArthur hearings, the enemy knows just exactly how Gen. Bradley, Gen. Joe Collins, Adm. Forrest Sherman and Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg all would react should we get into an all-out war, how far an enemy could push us before getting into war, and so on.

No wonder the lights burn late in the Soviet Embassy every evening after the MacArthur hearings.

B. & O. Disclosure

One of the most important disclosures in the suppressed RFC-Baltimore and Ohio Railroad report, now made public after four years in a Senate safe, is the attitude of a U. S. district judge in Baltimore — Judge William C. Chesnut.

The Senate report now shows that Judge Chesnut had owned Baltimore and Ohio RR bonds and actually voted these bonds in favor of the B. & O. bankruptcy plan in 1939, the year the railroad first went into receivership.

Judge Chesnut, according to the hitherto suppressed report, had been careful to sell his bonds just before the B. & O. case came to his court, though he neglected to notify the affected bondholders. Then he wrote an opinion in favor of the same bankruptcy plan that he had voted for as a bondholder.

In his 1939 opinion, Judge Chesnut found that by 1944, the B. & O. would be able to meet its $87,00,00 debt to the RFC and would not be in need of a second bankruptcy proceeding.

Five years later, however, Judge Chesnut sat on the second B. & O. receivership case, and also voted for bankruptcy. But before the 1944 case was sent to court, Russell Snodgrass, a Jesse Jones man placed inside the railroad as financial vice-president, took the precaution to phone Judge Chesnut and ask whether his 1939 opinion would embarrass him in sitting on the 1944 case.

Judge Chesnut's answer was: "No."

Note—Some senators got the impression that because the B. & O. case was reviewed by the courts, there was no reason for publishing the Senate Banking and Currency Committee report prepared by Senator Tobey. However, the last court review occurred in 1945, and dealt with whether the railroad was able to pay its RFC debt. The Tobey report two years later dealt with the peculiar political maneuvering and wire-pulling which siphoned off money and thereby put the railroad in the position of being unable to pay its debt.

The Man Who "Wore" His Own Teeth

Judge John Bannister Gibson (1780-1853) who was a supreme court justice of Pennsylvania for 37 years, lost all his teeth in 1831 when he was 51 years old. The teeth were still sound, only they had simply fallen out of his gums. Judge Gibson constructed two artificial plates in which he used a full set of his own teeth and wore them in his mouth for the remaining 22 years of his life.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

James King, the goon who helped his partner in crime, Ralph Howard Alsup, to escape from the Las Vegas union hall the night that Alsup shot a poor working stiff for no reason at all, is a more vicious thug and all-around criminal than Alsup, himself. These two vermin control the council of Clark county, Nevada, which includes Las Vegas and a lot of tax-supported government projects, whose employes are forced to pay tribute to such public enemies.

They are two of the worst union racketeers that I have encountered in a 15-year campaign which has turned up Browne, Bioff, Scalise, Fay, Bove and so many other reptilian specimens in the teamsters', boilermakers', laborers', and operating engineers' unions that a roster would crowd out the rest of this piece. How it happens that they haven't been plugged by some rough guy among their subjects, or ridden out of town or strung up by vigilantes I will not try to explain except to observe that men engaged in the horny-handed lines of toil, such as stevedores, are notoriously docile under the rule of gun-men. They fight in saloons and do more or less social killing in personal maladjustments but the tougher they are in song and story, the more craven they are under the union terror.

Alsup's criminal record has been thoroughly canvassed here and if you weren't listening you have only yourself to blame for believing those unblushing accomplices of the master crime syndicate of them all who write pieces out of Washington and New York describing the master-goons as "labor leaders." Alsup is heavy with titles. He is president and secretary of the Central Labor Council of the A. F. of L. for Clark county, president of the County Council of the Metal Trades; business agent of the local Plumbers' Union and vice-president of the Nevada State Federation. He has been convicted of seven crimes, has served ten years in prison out of a total of 33 years on all charges and is registered as an ex-convict under Nevada law. In Texas, he was pardoned after five convictions. Notwithstanding his crime of shooting a union man who was peacefully appealing a problem to King, as business agent of the local Painters' Union, in a naive belief that he could expect justice from this gun-man, Alsup is still the plenipotentiary union boss of Clark county and only a feeble local opposition has been started. This is tainted with the ambitious rivalry of another group which might be no better.

During Alsup's trial for shooting Ray Folsom on Dec. 3, 1949, Folsom swore that King, the business agent of his own union, the painters', helped Alsup to escape. King's title of business agent for the Painters' Union is a petty one and not indicative of his power as Alsup's henchman. Alsup's power increased when Tom Hanley of the Sheet Metal Workers, which is more reputable than most A. F. of L. unions, was made international vice-president and international representative and took to the road, supervising the dealings of his union in Nevada, California, Arizona and New Mexico. Alsup succeeded him as secretary of the council. In effect, Alsup and King kicked Hanley upstairs and they now control Clark county.

King's record in the FBI begins with a job on a phone-booth coin box in Crown Point, Ind., in 1921. For this job he got from one to eight years under the name of Harry Ryan. In 1924, as Thomas Giles, he was fined $200 and costs for busting a telephone coin box in Oak Park, Ill. In 1926 he got a year on the state farm at Greencastle, Ind., for larceny and broke jail within a month. For the escape he got from one to five years at the Pendleton, Ind., Reformatory. He was paroled. Between 1931 and 1933 he was arrested in Los Angeles, Berkeley, Chicago and Evanston, Ill., as James Ryan, James Bailey and James King but was not convicted. As James King, however, he got from one year to life in Chicago for armed robbery and served time in Joliet prison until June 16, 1942, when he was paroled.

The records of the War Department show that the same man applied for government work as a painter in 1942 and 1943. The records of the Las Vegas police department contain his registration as an ex-convict, in March 1946. The FBI memorandum notes other arrests in Chicago on charges of gambling, larceny, robbery, petty larceny and assault to rob and violation of the postal laws. His sentences were for 10 days, ten months and one year.

The west is booming and the population is growing even in the desert as the government expands its war program. The harpies of the great crime syndicate, the union racket, are flocking to the new cantonments and industrial plants, including, of course, the mines and are repeating the performance of the period between 1938 and 1945 when rogues bearing credentials from the A. F. of L. and the C.I.O. preyed on millions of workers, retarded production and added billions to the cost of making it possible for the young fighting men to protect them. The west has had little experience in dealing with such rascals and may have to learn the hard way.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Prepared Hand Tests Your Skill

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

In far-off Australia bridge championships are often decided by means of specially prepared hands. This year the Australian Bridge Council is arranging a special contest of thirty-two prepared hands to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of the federation of the six states of Australia.

The hand shown today, prepared for such a contest some years ago, shows how the Australians demand every ounce of skill from their contestants.

South is expected to get to three no-trump, a somewhat doubtful contract. However, it must be admitted that good players bid just such flimsy games every day in the week.

West opens the king of spades, holding the trick. He continues with the queen of spades, and East discards the six of diamonds.

South wins with the ace of spades and sees that he needs at least two (actually three) heart tricks for his contract. Hence he is doomed to defeat if West has the ace of hearts. He must play the hand on the assumption that East has the heart ace.

South therefore leads a heart at the third trick, West plays the seven...and now the correct play must be made from dummy. Pretend you're an Australian and pick the right play.

Dummy must play a low heart. This allows East to win with the eight of hearts. East will also win a trick later on with the ace of hearts. But then the rest of dummy's hearts will be good, and declarer makes the contract.

If the queen of hearts is played on the first round of that suit, East naturally takes the ace. Then West is bound to get the lead with the ten or jack of hearts to run enough spade tricks to set the contract.

What happens if East discards a heart on the second round of spades? Then South is set—even if East discards the ace of hearts. However, this is assumed to be a double dummy play, and did not actually happen when the tournament was held.

Questions — Answers

Q—What was the last composition played by Haydn?

A—It is said that when the French were bombarding Vienna in 1809, some five days before he died, Haydn asked to be led to the piano where he played his own Hymn to the Emperor three times with sacred respect and intense expression. This was the last time he touched his instrument.

* * *

Q—Why does "grapevine" mean a source of information or gossip?

A—The expression dates from the Civil War. Unconfirmed rumor was said, derisively, to have come by "grapevine telegraph." It corresponds to the Navy's term "scuttle butt," that is, rumors picked up at the ship's scuttle butt, or drinking fountain.

Q—Did Harry Lauder ever work in the coal mines?

BOOKS IN TELEVISION

"If you can't lick them, join them." This familiar advice may have inspired the Cleveland Public Library's recent announcement that it plans to go in for educational television. It expects to apply for a station license, and see what it can do with television, if the license is granted, to guide its patrons back to books and reading.

Reports from the main library and its branches indicate that television has cut into book reading, as it has into other forms of recreational activity. On the other hand, when a famous book has been the subject of a telecast, those who have seen it are apt to come to the library and read it for themselves. Stimulation of book demand in this way will be the library's aim.

Recreation is only one of the modern library's fields of usefulness. It prides itself on furnishing needed information and helping the business and other serious demands of its readers. Probably telecasts can be devised which will call attention to these helpful functions. Television perhaps can increase reading.

FOUR BILLION SMOKES

The output of cigarettes in the United States has reached a new record in the 1950-51 year. Production for the year has been at the rate of almost half a pack per day for every man, woman and child. Presumably the smoking of them must also have reached a new peak. The Department of Agriculture reports that consumption of cigarettes per person of 15 years or older increased 270 per cent from 1925 to 1950.

Statistics on cigarette-smoking always provoke questions about the reasons for its growth, and the significance of it. The common answers are not highly informative, and do not always hang together. One explanation for the recent increase, for example, is that personal incomes are higher. On the other hand it is often said that individuals smoke more when they are worried or depressed. They say people smoke more when they have less to do, yet the past year, in which the record has been set, has been an extraordinarily busy time.

One conclusion seems unquestionable: the cigarette has established its supremacy in popularity over other forms of tobacco. If one question is to be sought for which someone in any ordinary small group of adults will surely have an affirmative answer, that question is this: "Anyone have a cigarette?"

THE CHANGING TIMES

Editors, like everyone else, have changed their viewpoint in the last century and a half. A student, going through the files of Niles' Weekly Register, which from 1811 to 1849 was the leading news magazine of the United States, found several references to Niagara Falls and its surroundings. Each one contained an allusion to a certain restaurant on the Canadian side of the falls, commenting bluntly that it was no good and should be avoided. At this distance it is impossible to say whether the editor was taking out a grudge or the restaurant was really as bad as he said.

Nowadays newspapers and magazines are less apt to drag in derogatory matter of this kind. They are also less given to inserting personal puffs, and that is all to the good.

Dad is a handy fellow to have around—especially if his shirts and suits fit junior.

TAKE IT EASY, VOICE

In a fresh effort to talk to people behind the Iron Curtain on their own terms, the Voice of America recently began broadcasting to Georgia, the province of southern Russia where Stalin was born, in the native Georgian tongue.

This is the sort of thing American propaganda needs more of. We need to let enslaved peoples everywhere know we are thinking about them, that we have some understanding of their problems as they see them, that we want America to stand as a symbol of hope for them.

But we must stop short of making promises we can't fulfill. For instance, we wouldn't want the Georgians to expect U. S. armies soon to come marching through Georgia.

'These Days'

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

THE VOICE OF AMERICA

The "Voice of America" is an agency employed by the government of the United States to inform the world about this country. The measure of its effectiveness can only be the increased evidences of friendship for this country in various parts of the world. If we win friends, the "Voice of America" is of value; otherwise, it is a wasted expenditure.

In a word, the yardstick for this agency, as for any other, can only be the degree of success with which it achieves its designated task.

Dean Acheson fought for four hours to keep the Senate committee from making public an instruction, dated December 23, 1949, lest it be discovered that what the "Voice of America" and other public information sources of the United States said was untrue when they said it. The gist of his argument was that this document in the hands of Soviet Russia would give that country an opportunity to conduct a propaganda to show that the "Voice of America" spoke falsely.

The Russell Committee, correctly, by a vote of 15 to 9, made the document public. It was an instruction to lie. Dean Acheson accepted responsibility for it. Generals MacArthur, Marshall, Bradley, Collins, Vandenberg, Admiral Sherman and Dean Acheson himself have testified in such language as to establish without the possibility of doubt that what Dean Acheson wrote in his instruction of December 23, 1949, concerning Formosa was untrue then, is untrue now, and has never been the policy of the United States.

Acheson himself has stated:

"Throughout that period (that is, from October 1948 to June 25, 1950) there was one policy, and one policy only, which was adopted by the government . . . this policy was unanimously recommended to the President of the United States by all the departments concerned, and was approved by him. . . .

"That policy was as follows: First of all, it was understood and agreed that Formosa had strategic importance so far as the United States was concerned.

"The second point was that strategic importance related to keeping Formosa out of the hands of a power which would be hostile to the United States, and did not concern occupying or using Formosa by the United States."

In his instruction to the information officers, Acheson says that Formosa "politically, geographically, and strategically, is part of China in no way especially distinguished or important." He told them to use their material to "counter the false impressions" that "its loss would seriously damage the interests of either the United States or of other countries opposing communism." Again he said: "Formosa has no special military significance."

Naturally, it is a serious matter to be caught telling officers of our country to say what is not true. It becomes more serious as a war developed out of the confusion of our policy in Asia.

The total number of the instruction issued was 456 copies. In Tokyo, this leaked, almost immediately, to the United Press correspondent, Earnest Hoberecht, and its contents were published correctly in American newspapers. Although the "Voice of America" speaks only outside the United States, the "New York Herald Tribune," on December 29, 1949, said that the joint chiefs of staff and the secretary of state, Dean Acheson, had argued successfully against American defense of Formosa on the grounds that the island was not vital to United States security, that Chiang's Nationalists could not be trusted to use American aid.

We now know from Generals MacArthur, Marshall, Bradley, Collins, etc., and from Dean Acheson himself that this was not the American view. What found its way into the American press, of which this is an example, was Acheson's instructions to the "Voice of America."

On January 5, 1950 President Truman announced that the United States would take no action, direct or indirect, to help Chiang hold Formosa. Compare that with Dean Acheson's testimony quoted above! Truman's statement was made to contradict proposals made by Herbert Hoover and Robert A. Taft on January 2, in support of Formosa.

In his January 5 statement, President Truman said what could not have been true at any time, namely that:

". . . The resources on Formosa are adequate to enable them to obtain the items which they might consider necessary for the defense of the island. . . ."

The evidence now publicly available disproves the correctness of that statement. The testimony before the Russell Committee is that the joint chiefs of staff and the State Department did not hold to that view then.

That Body of Yours

NEW HOPES FOR HEARTS

When Drs. Banting and Best taught the medical profession that diabetes, the formerly fatal disease, could be controlled by insulin, and Drs. Minot and Murphy taught physicians that the always fatal disease, pernicious anemia, could be controlled by liver and later by liver extracts, it was but natural that research workers would try to find the cause and then the prevention and treatment of heart disease, which kills three times as many as cancer. Heart and blood vessel diseases kill more people than the next five leading causes of death combined. It is only natural, therefore, that an organization to make the big fight against heart and blood vessel diseases should be sponsored by the American Heart Association and its branches throughout the United States and Canada.

In a previous article I wrote about the Annual Heart Fund, collected from those interested in saving or prolonging the lives of men, women and children. I wrote of how the funds thus collected were distributed to various hospital clinics and to laboratories doing special work in the investigation of heart disease. However, the greater portion of the funds raised are retained by the local affiliated heart organization to support their own needed heart disease service. The heart disease community service provided by each branch of the American Heart Association includes improvement of diagnosis equipment and other facilities, rehabilitation of industrial workers suffering with heart and blood vessel diseases and projects for easing the burden of housewives with heart disease.

The slogan of the American Heart Organization, "New Hopes for Hearts" strikes a keynote of optimistic determination based on past gains and anticipated victories in the fight on heart disease.

It is pointed out that while heart disease kills off so many, if all the facts already known about it were known to all of us, it would prevent groundless fear and encourage positive action. It no longer need be said that once you have heart disease or have an attack (coronary thrombosis) you are likely to die soon.

People are being encouraged to protect their hearts through regular medical examinations, making possible early discovery of heart disease and hence early treatment.

Italian Renaissance

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington — Apparently it doesn't pay to tell Congress how General Motors gets favored treatment on steel allocations. The government official who had the nerve to do so, Col. William S. Knight, has now been squeezed out of his job.

Col. Knight is the official inside the National Production Authority who testified before Congressman Manny Celler's monopoly committee regarding 4,563 tons of steel which the NPA allotted to General Motors, at the very same time four other NPA applications for steel made by locomotive companies were conveniently "lost."

Knight was advised by his associates in the NPA not to testify. However, when called before the congressional committee, he told the truth. His testimony gave insight on what has been going on inside this vital war agency which allocates steel and other precious materials to industry.

Melvin Cole, a vice president of Bethlehem Steel, on loan to the government at no salary, okayed the extra 4,563 tons of steel to General Motors. So also did Henry Rankin, loaned to the NPA by Republic Steel. Both Republic and Bethlehem do a land-office business with General Motors.

Meanwhile, Baldwin locomotives, which wanted extra steel for 45 locomotives, had its application "lost." So did three other companies which had no one inside the NPA. Twice Col. Knight put through their allocations, but twice they got "lost."

After Col. Knight testified, his chief, Franz Stone, also on loan to the government by the Columbus McKinnon Chain Co., held an emergency meeting in his office until nearly midnight. Stone's company also does business with General Motors. Next morning, the NPA personnel officer, Herschell Snead, handed Col. Knight a typed resignation and asked him to sign it.

Knight hesitated. Several days passed. It became clear that if he didn't get out peacefully he would be boycotted and isolated. All papers usually routed to him, were routed around him. Matt Tate, who had bawled him out for testifying before Congress, was appointed to the job Knight had been promised — assistant chief of the division. Finally, Knight signed the resignation handed him by the personnel office.

A New England railroad man, he is going back to Lyndonville, Vt., where he came from.

Note—A steady stream of industry men, working "WOC"—"without compensation," have operated the National Production Authority. Since they are paid by their own companies, not by the government, their first loyalty frequently is to their company. Some companies even make it a policy to plant men inside key government agencies to make sure their friends are favored.

Soviet Lights Burn Late

Most important topic of conversation in the diplomatic corps these days is the way the United States is revealing priceless secrets of war strategy to a potential enemy in the Kremlin.

Foreign military attaches and diplomats are reading every line of the Senate hearings on MacArthur and sending voluminous copies back to their governments as a future textbook on what this country will do in case of war. They say that never in modern history have they seen so complete a revelation of important policies supposed to be kept secret.

Friendly diplomats have expressed private concern over the MacArthur hearings. Unfriendly diplomats are eating up the hearings like duck soup. It is estimated in diplomatic circles that the MacArthur revelations will save the Soviet several million dollars of intelligence money which it otherwise would have spent in this country.

Military attaches point out that it is common practice for a foreign army to spend months studying the personality of one important military leader, such as Gen. Omar Bradley, and how he will react in certain situations. The United States, for instance, brought Gen. Al Wedemeyer into the war plans division during the war because he had previously been stationed in Berlin and knew the personalities and habits of certain German generals.

Outguessing the enemy is one of the fundamentals of war. That's why this information is so important.

Now, as a result of the MacArthur hearings, the enemy knows just exactly how Gen. Bradley, Gen. Joe Collins, Adm. Forrest Sherman and Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg all would react should we get into an all-out war, how far an enemy could push us before getting into war, and so on.

No wonder the lights burn late in the Soviet Embassy every evening after the MacArthur hearings.

B. & O. Disclosure

One of the most important disclosures in the suppressed RFC-Baltimore and Ohio Railroad report, now made public after four years in a Senate safe, is the attitude of a U. S. district judge in Baltimore — Judge William C. Chesnut.

The Senate report now shows that Judge Chesnut had owned Baltimore and Ohio RR bonds and actually voted these bonds in favor of the B. & O. bankruptcy plan in 1939, the year the railroad first went into receivership.

Judge Chesnut, according to the hitherto suppressed report, had been careful to sell his bonds just before the B. & O. case came to his court, though he neglected to notify the affected bondholders. Then he wrote an opinion in favor of the same bankruptcy plan that he had voted for as a bondholder.

In his 1939 opinion, Judge Chesnut found that by 1944, the B. & O. would be able to meet its $87,00,00 debt to the RFC and would not be in need of a second bankruptcy proceeding.

Five years later, however, Judge Chesnut sat on the second B. & O. receivership case, and also voted for bankruptcy. But before the 1944 case was sent to court, Russell Snodgrass, a Jesse Jones man placed inside the railroad as financial vice-president, took the precaution to phone Judge Chesnut and ask whether his 1939 opinion would embarrass him in sitting on the 1944 case.

Judge Chesnut's answer was: "No."

Note—Some senators got the impression that because the B. & O. case was reviewed by the courts, there was no reason for publishing the Senate Banking and Currency Committee report prepared by Senator Tobey. However, the last court review occurred in 1945, and dealt with whether the railroad was able to pay its RFC debt. The Tobey report two years later dealt with the peculiar political maneuvering and wire-pulling which siphoned off money and thereby put the railroad in the position of being unable to pay its debt.

The Man Who "Wore" His Own Teeth

Judge John Bannister Gibson (1780-1853) who was a supreme court justice of Pennsylvania for 37 years, lost all his teeth in 1831 when he was 51 years old. The teeth were still sound, only they had simply fallen out of his gums. Judge Gibson constructed two artificial plates in which he used a full set of his own teeth and wore them in his mouth for the remaining 22 years of his life.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

James King, the goon who helped his partner in crime, Ralph Howard Alsup, to escape from the Las Vegas union hall the night that Alsup shot a poor working stiff for no reason at all, is a more vicious thug and all-around criminal than Alsup, himself. These two vermin control the council of Clark county, Nevada, which includes Las Vegas and a lot of tax-supported government projects, whose employes are forced to pay tribute to such public enemies.

They are two of the worst union racketeers that I have encountered in a 15-year campaign which has turned up Browne, Bioff, Scalise, Fay, Bove and so many other reptilian specimens in the teamsters', boilermakers', laborers', and operating engineers' unions that a roster would crowd out the rest of this piece. How it happens that they haven't been plugged by some rough guy among their subjects, or ridden out of town or strung up by vigilantes I will not try to explain except to observe that men engaged in the horny-handed lines of toil, such as stevedores, are notoriously docile under the rule of gun-men. They fight in saloons and do more or less social killing in personal maladjustments but the tougher they are in song and story, the more craven they are under the union terror.

Alsup's criminal record has been thoroughly canvassed here and if you weren't listening you have only yourself to blame for believing those unblushing accomplices of the master crime syndicate of them all who write pieces out of Washington and New York describing the master-goons as "labor leaders." Alsup is heavy with titles. He is president and secretary of the Central Labor Council of the A. F. of L. for Clark county, president of the County Council of the Metal Trades; business agent of the local Plumbers' Union and vice-president of the Nevada State Federation. He has been convicted of seven crimes, has served ten years in prison out of a total of 33 years on all charges and is registered as an ex-convict under Nevada law. In Texas, he was pardoned after five convictions. Notwithstanding his crime of shooting a union man who was peacefully appealing a problem to King, as business agent of the local Painters' Union, in a naive belief that he could expect justice from this gun-man, Alsup is still the plenipotentiary union boss of Clark county and only a feeble local opposition has been started. This is tainted with the ambitious rivalry of another group which might be no better.

During Alsup's trial for shooting Ray Folsom on Dec. 3, 1949, Folsom swore that King, the business agent of his own union, the painters', helped Alsup to escape. King's title of business agent for the Painters' Union is a petty one and not indicative of his power as Alsup's henchman. Alsup's power increased when Tom Hanley of the Sheet Metal Workers, which is more reputable than most A. F. of L. unions, was made international vice-president and international representative and took to the road, supervising the dealings of his union in Nevada, California, Arizona and New Mexico. Alsup succeeded him as secretary of the council. In effect, Alsup and King kicked Hanley upstairs and they now control Clark county.

King's record in the FBI begins with a job on a phone-booth coin box in Crown Point, Ind., in 1921. For this job he got from one to eight years under the name of Harry Ryan. In 1924, as Thomas Giles, he was fined $200 and costs for busting a telephone coin box in Oak Park, Ill. In 1926 he got a year on the state farm at Greencastle, Ind., for larceny and broke jail within a month. For the escape he got from one to five years at the Pendleton, Ind., Reformatory. He was paroled. Between 1931 and 1933 he was arrested in Los Angeles, Berkeley, Chicago and Evanston, Ill., as James Ryan, James Bailey and James King but was not convicted. As James King, however, he got from one year to life in Chicago for armed robbery and served time in Joliet prison until June 16, 1942, when he was paroled.

The records of the War Department show that the same man applied for government work as a painter in 1942 and 1943. The records of the Las Vegas police department contain his registration as an ex-convict, in March 1946. The FBI memorandum notes other arrests in Chicago on charges of gambling, larceny, robbery, petty larceny and assault to rob and violation of the postal laws. His sentences were for 10 days, ten months and one year.

The west is booming and the population is growing even in the desert as the government expands its war program. The harpies of the great crime syndicate, the union racket, are flocking to the new cantonments and industrial plants, including, of course, the mines and are repeating the performance of the period between 1938 and 1945 when rogues bearing credentials from the A. F. of L. and the C.I.O. preyed on millions of workers, retarded production and added billions to the cost of making it possible for the young fighting men to protect them. The west has had little experience in dealing with such rascals and may have to learn the hard way.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Prepared Hand Tests Your Skill

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

In far-off Australia bridge championships are often decided by means of specially prepared hands. This year the Australian Bridge Council is arranging a special contest of thirty-two prepared hands to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of the federation of the six states of Australia.

The hand shown today, prepared for such a contest some years ago, shows how the Australians demand every ounce of skill from their contestants.

South is expected to get to three no-trump, a somewhat doubtful contract. However, it must be admitted that good players bid just such flimsy games every day in the week.

West opens the king of spades, holding the trick. He continues with the queen of spades, and East discards the six of diamonds.

South wins with the ace of spades and sees that he needs at least two (actually three) heart tricks for his contract. Hence he is doomed to defeat if West has the ace of hearts. He must play the hand on the assumption that East has the heart ace.

South therefore leads a heart at the third trick, West plays the seven...and now the correct play must be made from dummy. Pretend you're an Australian and pick the right play.

Dummy must play a low heart. This allows East to win with the eight of hearts. East will also win a trick later on with the ace of hearts. But then the rest of dummy's hearts will be good, and declarer makes the contract.

If the queen of hearts is played on the first round of that suit, East naturally takes the ace. Then West is bound to get the lead with the ten or jack of hearts to run enough spade tricks to set the contract.

What happens if East discards a heart on the second round of spades? Then South is set—even if East discards the ace of hearts. However, this is assumed to be a double dummy play, and did not actually happen when the tournament was held.

Q—What was the last composition played by Haydn?

A—It is said that when the French were bombarding Vienna in 1809, some five days before he died, Haydn asked to be led to the piano where he played his own Hymn to the Emperor three times with sacred respect and intense expression. This was the last time he touched his instrument.

Q—Why does "grapevine" mean a source of information or gossip?

A—The expression dates from the Civil War. Unconfirmed rumor was said, derisively, to have come by "grapevine telegraph." It corresponds to the Navy's term "scuttle butt," that is, rumors picked up at the ship's scuttle butt, or drinking fountain.

BABSON on BUSINESS

New York city, June 8—What is the outlook for prices of foods, clothing and rent for the balance of this year? The scarce buying is over. Installment sales are on the decline. Does this mean that the prices of all the things you buy will tumble?

The Federal attempts to lower prices is largely a political gesture. Very few high-quality goods will sell for less for some time. The only way prices will now be lowered is by reducing quality or forcing unemployment. As long as full employment exists, prices will continue to depend—not on Washington rulings—but on supply and demand. If American families go back to having a good beef roast only on Sundays, then the price of beef will decline. If, on the other hand, they decide to have a roast twice a week, then the price will remain high.

Here in New York city is the great central market for men's and women's clothing. Upon inquiries today I learn that the prices which you see in windows and advertisements may be kept down, but the quality will not be good. If you want good-quality suits or dresses you must pay more. This does not mean that the manufacturer of the brand you have always bought has marked up his goods, but that his old best-quality goods are no longer available. Hence, to get good quality you must buy a brand which has always cost more. This applies to almost everything — clothing, furniture and canned goods.

What About Wages?

The "take home" wages are determined by supply and demand. Labor Unions can make manufacturers pay more wages, but they cannot make the public buy more merchandise. The bureaucrats at Washington can set a "fair" hourly wage, but they cannot assure work to the union members. The "take home" pay is the product of the hourly wage multiplied by the number of hours worked. I believe this will hold up for some time; but it must decline before prices of food, clothing and shelter will tumble.

Yet, you must remember that only 25% of our workers are now unionized. The great mass are still free to work where they wish, as they wish and for what they wish. These are the true Americans, in my humble judgment. These will supply the foremen, managers and future employers of our great growing country. If you always want to work for someone else, then join a Union. If, however, you want to be a free man and climb to the top of some business, don't be tied to Union rules.

Dollars Are Worth Less

Another reason why the government cannot now reduce prices is because the dollar will be worth less next year. Just now President Truman is balancing the nation's budget; but he can't do this next year. He must print money or bonds to help pay for the military expenditures. Paper dollars are little different from paper dolls or any other commodity. As the supply increases above normal, the price goes down. Government bonds have already dropped in price; dollar bills will tumble again soon.

Many readers of my column send me charts and figures showing how prices have temporarily been controlled in the past, but they forget we are now living in an entirely new economic age. During his administration, President Roosevelt destroyed the Gold Basis for our dollar bills. This Gold Basis prevented prices from going too high. Now the only thing that can prevent prices, wages, real estate, etc., from staying up is either "a reduction in the supply of printing press money," or a business bust. Surely the price of gold will again be marked up.

Shall You Buy Now?

Don't buy now for hoarding. Prices will not skyrocket. There will continue to be enough necessary goods. On the other hand, don't wait for lower prices on goods you really need. Buy naturally; save naturally; and live naturally. Be neither a hoarder nor a speculator; be neither a scrimper nor a waster; be a God-fearing, sensible citizen and insist upon quality even if you must buy less.

Blind, Still Does Her Cooking

Mrs. Harry Baxter, right, Rosendale housewife who has been blind for 15 years but still does her own cooking, gets the feel of her new electric range. Miss Dorothy Rhodes, Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation Home Service Representative, has been teaching Mrs. Baxter operations of the modern range.

Rosendale Woman Crochets and Does Own Housework

Mrs. Harry Baxter of Rosendale likes to describe in detail her trips to Florida. She appreciates beautiful scenery. Though blind for 15 years, she crochets, does leather craftwork and her own housework.

When she and her husband, a retired grocery store owner, travel, he tells her in detail everything he sees. She sees through his eyes and remembers.

When they are at home Mrs. Baxter likes to do her own cooking. She purchased a new electric range recently and Miss Dorothy Rhodes, Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation Home Service representative, called on her to explain the operations of the stove which is different from her old one.

She's much easier to teach than a new bride, according to Miss Rhodes, and "so cheerful."

Mrs. Baxter, a neat, grey-haired woman with a quick wit and smile, doesn't think there's anything remarkable about her cooking accomplishments. How does she know when something she is cooking is done? By touch, smell and timing and an extra sense developed by 15 years of experience.

An ardent baseball fan, she listens to every Dodger game over the radio in her neatly-kept living room. She crochets while she listens. "Every time the Dodgers start losing a ball game, I drop a stitch," she said.

Mrs. Baxter reads a Braille-printed bible lesson every day and other articles about blind persons who have overcome their handicap. She has been an active member of the Rosendale Grange and was recently installed as an officer.

BABSON on BUSINESS

New York city, June 8—What is the outlook for prices of foods, clothing and rent for the balance of this year? The scarce buying is over. Installment sales are on the decline. Does this mean that the prices of all the things you buy will tumble?

The Federal attempts to lower prices is largely a political gesture. Very few high-quality goods will sell for less for some time. The only way prices will now be lowered is by reducing quality or forcing unemployment. As long as full employment exists, prices will continue to depend—not on Washington rulings—but on supply and demand. If American families go back to having a good beef roast only on Sundays, then the price of beef will decline. If, on the other hand, they decide to have a roast twice a week, then the price will remain high.

Here in New York city is the great central market for men's and women's clothing. Upon inquiries today I learn that the prices which you see in windows and advertisements may be kept down, but the quality will not be good. If you want good-quality suits or dresses you must pay more. This does not mean that the manufacturer of the brand you have always bought has marked up his goods, but that his old best-quality goods are no longer available. Hence, to get good quality you must buy a brand which has always cost more. This applies to almost everything — clothing, furniture and canned goods.

What About Wages?

The "take home" wages are determined by supply and demand. Labor Unions can make manufacturers pay more wages, but they cannot make the public buy more merchandise. The bureaucrats at Washington can set a "fair" hourly wage, but they cannot assure work to the union members. The "take home" pay is the product of the hourly wage multiplied by the number of hours worked. I believe this will hold up for some time; but it must decline before prices of food, clothing and shelter will tumble.

Yet, you must remember that only 25% of our workers are now unionized. The great mass are still free to work where they wish, as they wish and for what they wish. These are the true Americans, in my humble judgment. These will supply the foremen, managers and future employers of our great growing country. If you always want to work for someone else, then join a Union. If, however, you want to be a free man and climb to the top of some business, don't be tied to Union rules.

Dollars Are Worth Less

Another reason why the government cannot now reduce prices is because the dollar will be worth less next year. Just now President Truman is balancing the nation's budget; but he can't do this next year. He must print money or bonds to help pay for the military expenditures. Paper dollars are little different from paper dolls or any other commodity. As the supply increases above normal, the price goes down. Government bonds have already dropped in price; dollar bills will tumble again soon.

Many readers of my column send me charts and figures showing how prices have temporarily been controlled in the past, but they forget we are now living in an entirely new economic age. During his administration, President Roosevelt destroyed the Gold Basis for our dollar bills. This Gold Basis prevented prices from going too high. Now the only thing that can prevent prices, wages, real estate, etc., from staying up is either "a reduction in the supply of printing press money," or a business bust. Surely the price of gold will again be marked up.

Shall You Buy Now?

Don't buy now for hoarding. Prices will not skyrocket. There will continue to be enough necessary goods. On the other hand, don't wait for lower prices on goods you really need. Buy naturally; save naturally; and live naturally. Be neither a hoarder nor a speculator; be neither a scrimper nor a waster; be a God-fearing, sensible citizen and insist upon quality even if you must buy less.

Employers to Get Provisions of New Jobless Ruling

The Kingston Chamber of Commerce and the local office of the New York State Division of Placement and Unemployment Insurance are offering assistance to area employers affected by the new Hughes-Brees Unemployment Insurance Law.

The law provides for a new system of "request reporting" to supplant the present quarterly payroll report for most employers beginning July 2. This provision will necessitate a review of payroll records by many Ulster county employers.

To Meet Wednesday

An open meeting for all employers has been schduled for 7:45 p. m. Wednesday, June 13, at the Governor Clinton Hotel. Two speakers have been secured to explain provisions of the new law and answer questions asked by employers present.

William A. Mills of Albany, executive vice-president of the Empire State Association of Commerce, will explain in detail the importance and the operation of the new law.

Robert N. Purcell, also of Albany, district superintendent of the Albany district for the State Department of Labor's Division of Placement and Unemployment Insurance, will explain the new forms to be used. He will also outline the scope of the new law.

At the Wednesday night meeting, sample forms will be distributed to all present. Examples will be given of how the new rates for paying unemployment insurance taxes will be established.

The Hughes-Brees law, in addition to changing the method of reporting to the state, provides an "experience rating" which will benefit employers with stable employment record. Under the old law, a flat rate of 2.7 per cent was paid. Under the new law this could actually be reduced to zero in some cases.

The new law also provides an increase to $30 a week of the payments to qualified recipients.

Lawrence J. MacAvery, president of the Chamber of Commerce, has urged attendance by employers at the meeting Wednesday night. He pointed out that the new law "can save dollars and cents for those with stable employment."

Will Correct Abuses

Another comment on the new law came from Albert Kurdt, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, who recently attended a conference at which the law was explained. "It will correct many of the old abuses, but needs the cooperation of all employers," he said. "It will help attract new industries and increase employment. Industries are now encouraged to expand because of the new experience rating provisions."

Another requirement of the new law provides that employes must have a "Record of Employment" slip for every insured job they hold subsequent to July 1, 1950. These slips are obtained from employers, and must be turned in to the Unemployment Insurance office when applying for benefits. "We will have to send you back for these slips if you come in without them," A. C. Hart, local employment security manager, pointed out today.

Also of interest to employes is the fact that they can now apply for benefits starting July 2 if they are unemployed.

Unemployed persons who have already received the maximum of 26 payments since last June may be entitled to as many as two more checks this month, and unemployed persons who are not entitled to benefits this month because of insufficient earnings in 1949 may be eligible for benefits starting July 2 if they file a claim between now and June 30.

A Letter to Senator Arthur H. Wicks:

Dear Senator:

We note that you are embarking on a series of investigations, for the betterment of our State. The people of Kerhonkson endorse wholeheartedly your campaign and wish you every success. In the light of your current work we invite your attention to a situation; one which we believe to be most pertinent and of vital interest to yourself and the leaders of our State.

Kerhonkson as you know Senator, has approximately 800 inhabitants. Not having other means, the people purchase water from the Kerhonkson Water Co. Inc. On December 13, 1949 the Company filed for a rate increase of approximately 79% in its water rates. This was granted by the Public Service Commission without a hearing. In support of its application the Company filed a verified petition setting forth the original cost of its plant to be $67,820.06. On December 19, 1949 a report by the Water Bureau of the Public Service Commission was filed with the Commission recommending that "based on a survey made by the Water Bureau's staff that the increase be permitted to go into effect."

On December 28, 1949 the Commission ordered a hearing on the rate increase. The residents had retained private counsel to represent them and to protect their interests at the hearings.

What happened, Senator? The hearings took place. 5 of them. Over a period of 7 months. Approximately 800 pages of sworn testimony. The net result? A record that would shock the conscience of any public minded spirited citizen. Let us look at the record briefly.

In order for the Company to establish its right to this rate increase, Rule 4 of the Public Service Commission rules requires that the original cost of the plant in operation be established by clear evidence free from conjecture and speculation. What happened? The Public Service Commission graciously offered to send its staff down and determine the cost for the Company. Did the Company object. Of course not. Despite the protests of counsel for the consumers the Company was allowed to sit back and watch. The Public Service Commission Water Bureau finally arrived at a figure of $45,709.59. This only 3 months after it had reported that "In Case 14267 an original cost was determined of the water plant in service at December 31, 1948." That figure was $67,820.06.

Did the Company object this time to this terrific slash in value? Despite its verified petition? No! Is it not strange that within the short space of 3 months the same staff of the Public Service Commission found amounts differing by about $23,000.000 or almost 50%. Is it not strange for the Company to willingly accept a 50% reduction? What is the answer? Was the fear of perjury too strong? All these facts were well known to the Commission Staff, Senator. It's all in the record in cases 14267 and 14684. They speak for themselves.

Why did the Public Service Commission officials seek to suppress its inter-office report establishing the Company's plant to be $67,820.06 issued only three months prior to this hearing? Why did the Trial Examiner and the Public Service Commission staff seek to disregard a prior decision of the Trial Examiner in case 14267 as not relevant? It is possible it was too relevant. And embarrassing? Who is trying to cover up for whom? The residents of Kerhonkson would like to know.

The Public Service Commission officials worked for more than 4 months, with a staff of 6 men or more to present the company's burden of proof. Yet when counsel for the consumers proved that the Company had failed to report income it was receiving, he was refused a subpoena. Why? Are we not entitled to have all the facts brought out.

The Company charged $108.10 as expense for telephone charges. Yet it isn't even listed in the telephone directory. Our lawyer wasn't permitted a subpoena to ascertain the true amount. Why?

The Company submitted false statements as to electric expense. Again we were refused a subpoena. Why? Despite this refusal, our lawyer by his own efforts, obtained copies of electric bills proving these items were increeased by the Company by over 50% and in some cases even more.

One might inquire whether this is a public hearing in the interest of the public. Who is on trial? The people?

This is not a case of simple error. Or mistake. A mere reading of the record, Senator will establish that beyond any shadow of a doubt.

The Kerhonkson Water Co., Inc. is controlled by the president and his family, owning 105 of 146 outstanding shares. The president also owns a private water company serving residents of the Kerhonkson area. The president of the Company illegally connected in the cellar of his home the water mains from the Kerhonkson Water Co., Inc. to the mains of his private company and was siphoning water without paying for the same. The Commission found this to be the fact. Shall illegality and misrepresentation be rewarded by a tremendous rate increase?

All these facts were known to the Public Service Commission and its staff. The same Water Bureau made its investigation in case 14267. Only three months before. Yet they made no recommendation for any investigation. Why?

Why was the "Suspension Order" prohibiting the rate increase from going into effect crossed out on the original order. Who ordered the change. It's in the file. The records are available to you, Sir.

The president of the Company had the nerve to list as an expense of the Company, a voucher for four dinners for Public Service Engineers! This after the investigation had already been under way three months! Is justice to be turned into a farce! Are we not entitled to an explanation.

As ranking leader of the State Legislature, we know you are deeply interested in exposing all forms of injustice. An investigation might very profitably be conducted here in Ulster County.

A final bit of irony. Our attorney made a special trip to Albany to inquire how the Public Service Commission arrived at its decision. From 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. he was shuttled from one official to another. He was told to file an application in writing for the Public Service Commission to consider. Not till almost 5 p. m. was he able to obtain an explanation. Why the mystery by our officials, Senator. Is this case so hot that its contents must remain locked in secret. Who is afraid?

The Public Service Commission has probably marked the Kerhonkson Water Case closed. But to the 800 residents it will always remain open. The people of Kerhonkson are ready to substantiate all the facts.

We trust the officials of the State of New York are sufficiently interested. We are confident you will be.

Awaiting your early reply.

Employers to Get Provisions of New Jobless Ruling

The Kingston Chamber of Commerce and the local office of the New York State Division of Placement and Unemployment Insurance are offering assistance to area employers affected by the new Hughes-Brees Unemployment Insurance Law.

The law provides for a new system of "request reporting" to supplant the present quarterly payroll report for most employers beginning July 2. This provision will necessitate a review of payroll records by many Ulster county employers.

To Meet Wednesday

An open meeting for all employers has been schduled for 7:45 p. m. Wednesday, June 13, at the Governor Clinton Hotel. Two speakers have been secured to explain provisions of the new law and answer questions asked by employers present.

William A. Mills of Albany, executive vice-president of the Empire State Association of Commerce, will explain in detail the importance and the operation of the new law.

Robert N. Purcell, also of Albany, district superintendent of the Albany district for the State Department of Labor's Division of Placement and Unemployment Insurance, will explain the new forms to be used. He will also outline the scope of the new law.

At the Wednesday night meeting, sample forms will be distributed to all present. Examples will be given of how the new rates for paying unemployment insurance taxes will be established.

The Hughes-Brees law, in addition to changing the method of reporting to the state, provides an "experience rating" which will benefit employers with stable employment record. Under the old law, a flat rate of 2.7 per cent was paid. Under the new law this could actually be reduced to zero in some cases.

The new law also provides an increase to $30 a week of the payments to qualified recipients.

Lawrence J. MacAvery, president of the Chamber of Commerce, has urged attendance by employers at the meeting Wednesday night. He pointed out that the new law "can save dollars and cents for those with stable employment."

Will Correct Abuses

Another comment on the new law came from Albert Kurdt, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, who recently attended a conference at which the law was explained. "It will correct many of the old abuses, but needs the cooperation of all employers," he said. "It will help attract new industries and increase employment. Industries are now encouraged to expand because of the new experience rating provisions."

Another requirement of the new law provides that employes must have a "Record of Employment" slip for every insured job they hold subsequent to July 1, 1950. These slips are obtained from employers, and must be turned in to the Unemployment Insurance office when applying for benefits. "We will have to send you back for these slips if you come in without them," A. C. Hart, local employment security manager, pointed out today.

Also of interest to employes is the fact that they can now apply for benefits starting July 2 if they are unemployed.

Unemployed persons who have already received the maximum of 26 payments since last June may be entitled to as many as two more checks this month, and unemployed persons who are not entitled to benefits this month because of insufficient earnings in 1949 may be eligible for benefits starting July 2 if they file a claim between now and June 30.

One might inquire whether this is a public hearing in the interest of the public. Who is on trial? The people?

This is not a case of simple error. Or mistake. A mere reading of the record, Senator will establish that beyond any shadow of a doubt.

The Kerhonkson Water Co., Inc. is controlled by the president and his family, owning 105 of 146 outstanding shares. The president also owns a private water company serving residents of the Kerhonkson area. The president of the Company illegally connected in the cellar of his home the water mains from the Kerhonkson Water Co., Inc. to the mains of his private company and was siphoning water without paying for the same. The Commission found this to be the fact. Shall illegality and misrepresentation be rewarded by a tremendous rate increase?

All these facts were known to the Public Service Commission and its staff. The same Water Bureau made its investigation in case 14267. Only three months before. Yet they made no recommendation for any investigation. Why?

Why was the "Suspension Order" prohibiting the rate increase from going into effect crossed out on the original order. Who ordered the change. It's in the file. The records are available to you, Sir.

The president of the Company had the nerve to list as an expense of the Company, a voucher for four dinners for Public Service Engineers! This after the investigation had already been under way three months! Is justice to be turned into a farce! Are we not entitled to an explanation.

As ranking leader of the State Legislature, we know you are deeply interested in exposing all forms of injustice. An investigation might very profitably be conducted here in Ulster County.

A final bit of irony. Our attorney made a special trip to Albany to inquire how the Public Service Commission arrived at its decision. From 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. he was shuttled from one official to another. He was told to file an application in writing for the Public Service Commission to consider. Not till almost 5 p. m. was he able to obtain an explanation. Why the mystery by our officials, Senator. Is this case so hot that its contents must remain locked in secret. Who is afraid?

The Public Service Commission has probably marked the Kerhonkson Water Case closed. But to the 800 residents it will always remain open. The people of Kerhonkson are ready to substantiate all the facts.

We trust the officials of the State of New York are sufficiently interested. We are confident you will be.

Awaiting your early reply.

PLATTEKILL

Plattekill, June 8—The Willing Workers of the Plattekill Methodist Church conducted a food sale Saturday at the general store of Ernest Waite for the benefit of the church.

Members of the Plattekill Home Bureau unit were represented at Lake Mohonk Wednesday when Ulster County Home Bureau Day was designated by the Federated Garden Clubs of New York state.

The recent silver anniversary celebration of the Plattekill Fire Co., Inc., was a decided success from both social and financial viewpoints, according to a report given by the chairman of the event, Morris Jacobowitz. However, the company still lacks funds to complete its new fire house on Route 32, and will continue to conduct social affairs and other money-raising campaigns to realize the necessary funds.

Mrs. George Sisti, Sr., was in charge of the program on home beautification at a recent meeting of the Plattekill Grange. Featured on the program of entertainment were musical selections by members of the Plattekill School Band, including Charles and Gregory Van Duser, Gayle Wager, William Dunn, Joan Cook, Edward Kopaski, John Evans, Frank Evans, Arnold Hansen and Bette Decker. The charter was draped in memory of George Martin, Sr. Plans were made for the annual spring clean-up day at the Grange. A pot-luck lunch at noon was arranged by Mrs. Burton Ward of Modena.

ANNIVERSARY PARTY FOR PARENTS

One who is evidently the "family's spokesman" writes: "Mother and Father will soon observe their 25th wedding anniversary and we'd like to have a celebration for them. I'm sure they themselves expect to make no such preparations. Would it be proper for the three grown but unmarried children to give such a party and should this be a surprise? What should the wording of the invitations be? And how can we get replies without having our parents suspect? We would give this party at the Country Club following dinner which our parents will think is just for ourselves alone."

I think a surprise party for your parents will be very nice and you could have the replies sent to a friend's house. The invitations might be printed or written informally, as follows:

Young Woman Alone on Vacation

Dear Mrs. Post: Would it be impossible for a young woman, 21, to go away to a resort town for a two weeks' holiday, alone? There is absolutely no one who can go at the time I can and I need a vacation badly.

Answer: Any self-reliant young woman of today can quite properly go on a holiday alone—especially if she stays in a "family type" inn or hotel.

Shower for Adopted Son

Dear Mrs. Post: May I consent to my friends giving a shower for our adopted son who will be arriving soon? My husband thinks maybe it is not in order in this case.

Answer: You have given me no idea of his age. If he is only a baby, a shower would be perfect. But if he is older, no shower! A party with children—or young people of his age—would be a very happy idea.

When is it good taste to wear hats, gloves and jewelry? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail, but her leaflet E-35, "The Well-Dressed Woman," will answer many questions on dress. It's true . . . . in the future there is a possibility that the supply may be somewhat curtailed. Two factors may bring this about: the present international situation — the urgent need for a stepped-up national defense program which has in turn resulted in a shortage of steel pipe and other materials; second, the tremendous demand for Natural Gas in every part of the country, partly a result of the increasing defense effort but also because of steadily increasing home use.

Here in the Central Hudson area our supply of Natural Gas is received through a cross-country transmission pipeline of the Home Gas Company, which in turn is a part of the Columbia Gas System. Companies such as Columbia, regulated as they are by both State and Federal agencies, are required in normal times to extend their services to meet such growing demands. But these are not normal times. And to repeat, expansion requires pipe and other materials which simply are not available at this time.

How would we fare in Central Hudson? Not badly! Companies . . . like people . . . insure against unforseen events! When Natural Gas was introduced into our system an integral part of the plan was to convert our present manufactured gas plants to produce a gas similar to Natural Gas. Upwards of $130,000 was allocated to do this. In the event that our supply of Natural Gas should be curtailed we have a generating capacity in our converted plants of 12,100,000 cubic feet a day as against the highest day's consumption to date of 7,817,800 cubic feet. So you see, we still have room to move around.

In view of this, our customers may be assured that the supply of this finest fuel for house heating, water heating, and cooking will continue to be adequate. However, we do ask you to conserve your use—use what gas you need but do not waste it.

Kiwanis Gives Yearly Award

The winners of the Kiwanis Club scholarships were guests of the club at its regular meeting at the Governor Clinton Hotel Thursday at noon.

The scholarships, or educational awards, are given annually by the club to members of the Kingston High School graduating class. They are financed from the proceeds of the annual Kiwanis Kapers extravaganza.

Other guests present at Thursday's meeting were Louis Nosenzo of Rosendale, class valedictorian; Ruth Paley, salutatorian, and John Henry Martin, principal of Kingston High School.

G. Herbert DeKay, chairman of the scholarship committee, introduced each of the award winners. They were:

Carol Kelsch, who will enter the Benedictine School of Nursing and intends to specialize in physical therapy. In high school, Miss Kelsch was a member of the student council, the Junior Red Cross, National Honor Society and was personality editor of the Maroon.

Joan Dugan will also enter the Benedictine Hospital nursing school. She was a member of Prisma, Senior Leaders Club, Spanish Club and was advertising manager of Dame Rumor. Miss Dugan wants to specialize in psychiatric nursing.

Marcia Parrott will enter the Kingston Hospital School of Nursing, and will later specialize in occupational therapy. She was a member of the Ski Club, Language Club, Prisma and the National Honor Society.

Gerald Bechtold will go to St. Lawrence University to major in physical education. He was a member of the Key Club, the varsity baseball team, and is president of the Senior Class at Kingston High School.

Donald Lyons will major in elementary education at New Paltz State Teachers College. He was a a varsity baseball team member and belonged to the National Honor Society.

Robert Mould has been accepted for the College of Agriculture at Cornell University. He was a member of the Future Farmers of America and the Key Club.

Louis Rose, who majored in accounting and is active as a senior patrol leader in an Olive Bridge Boy Scout troop, will attend Bentley School of Accounting in Boston.

Commends Club

Principal Martin commended the Kiwanis Club for its interest in youth exemplified by the granting of these scholarships to help young people further their education. Miss Paley and Nosenzo spoke briefly to the club on their high school experiences. Miss Paley also gave a piano solo.

In recognition of the fact that June is "Dairy Month," the members of the Kiwanis Club adopted a resolution "officially commending the dairy industry for its tremendous contributions to national health and the defense economy."

The resolution noted that increased use of milk and dairy products "are vital to the increased health and efficiency of our nation in its mobilization program."

Davitt Is Re-named

Thomas M. Davitt was re-elected president of the local water board for his third term at the board's annual meeting yesterday. Orville Z. Van Alstyne was also re-elected secretary. The other members of the board, all of whom attended the meeting are: John J. Schwenk, Harry R. LeFever, Jr., and Benjamin Schecter, who was recently reappointed.

New Rail President

Boston, June 8 (AP)—Frederic C. Dumaine, Jr., has succeeded his late father as president and board chairman of the $500,000,000 New Haven Railroad. He was elected yesterday at a board meeting attended by 10 of the company's directors. His father died May 27 at the age of 85.

SUITABLE FOR FRAMING—Peggy Carr, Las Vegas, Nev., showgirl, measures up to "standard-lovely," according to Nevada chiropractors. Checked out in the plumb-line frame, Peggy took first place in their annual posture contest.

WSB Grants Raises To Shipyard Workers

Washington, June 8 (AP)—Wage increases of 13 to 23 cents an hour have been approved for 50,000 shipyard workers on the east, west and gulf coasts.

The unanimous action yesterday by the Wage Stabilization Board allowed these raises:

Twenty three cents for employes of the shipbuilding division of Bethlehem Steel Co., on the east coast. This increases the hourly rates for first class mechanics from 1.57 to $1.80.

Eighteen cents for employes of Ingalls Shipbuilding Co., on the gulf coast. This raises first class mechanics to $1.73 an hour.

Thirteen cents for west coast shipyard workers, lifting rates to $1.79 hourly on new construction and $1.93 on repair work.

At Camden, N. J., John J. Grogan, president of the CIO Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers of America, said the raise approval averted a nation-wide strike.

Kiwanis Gives Yearly Award

The winners of the Kiwanis Club scholarships were guests of the club at its regular meeting at the Governor Clinton Hotel Thursday at noon.

The scholarships, or educational awards, are given annually by the club to members of the Kingston High School graduating class. They are financed from the proceeds of the annual Kiwanis Kapers extravaganza.

Other guests present at Thursday's meeting were Louis Nosenzo of Rosendale, class valedictorian; Ruth Paley, salutatorian, and John Henry Martin, principal of Kingston High School.

G. Herbert DeKay, chairman of the scholarship committee, introduced each of the award winners. They were:

Carol Kelsch, who will enter the Benedictine School of Nursing and intends to specialize in physical therapy. In high school, Miss Kelsch was a member of the student council, the Junior Red Cross, National Honor Society and was personality editor of the Maroon.

Joan Dugan will also enter the Benedictine Hospital nursing school. She was a member of Prisma, Senior Leaders Club, Spanish Club and was advertising manager of Dame Rumor. Miss Dugan wants to specialize in psychiatric nursing.

Marcia Parrott will enter the Kingston Hospital School of Nursing, and will later specialize in occupational therapy. She was a member of the Ski Club, Language Club, Prisma and the National Honor Society.

Gerald Bechtold will go to St. Lawrence University to major in physical education. He was a member of the Key Club, the varsity baseball team, and is president of the Senior Class at Kingston High School.

Donald Lyons will major in elementary education at New Paltz State Teachers College. He was a a varsity baseball team member and belonged to the National Honor Society.

Robert Mould has been accepted for the College of Agriculture at Cornell University. He was a member of the Future Farmers of America and the Key Club.

Louis Rose, who majored in accounting and is active as a senior patrol leader in an Olive Bridge Boy Scout troop, will attend Bentley School of Accounting in Boston.

Commends Club

Principal Martin commended the Kiwanis Club for its interest in youth exemplified by the granting of these scholarships to help young people further their education. Miss Paley and Nosenzo spoke briefly to the club on their high school experiences. Miss Paley also gave a piano solo.

In recognition of the fact that June is "Dairy Month," the members of the Kiwanis Club adopted a resolution "officially commending the dairy industry for its tremendous contributions to national health and the defense economy."

The resolution noted that increased use of milk and dairy products "are vital to the increased health and efficiency of our nation in its mobilization program."

SUITABLE FOR FRAMING—Peggy Carr, Las Vegas, Nev., showgirl, measures up to "standard-lovely," according to Nevada chiropractors. Checked out in the plumb-line frame, Peggy took first place in their annual posture contest.

Davitt Is Re-named

Thomas M. Davitt was re-elected president of the local water board for his third term at the board's annual meeting yesterday. Orville Z. Van Alstyne was also re-elected secretary. The other members of the board, all of whom attended the meeting are: John J. Schwenk, Harry R. LeFever, Jr., and Benjamin Schecter, who was recently reappointed.

WSB Grants Raises To Shipyard Workers

Washington, June 8 (AP)—Wage increases of 13 to 23 cents an hour have been approved for 50,000 shipyard workers on the east, west and gulf coasts.

The unanimous action yesterday by the Wage Stabilization Board allowed these raises:

Twenty three cents for employes of the shipbuilding division of Bethlehem Steel Co., on the east coast. This increases the hourly rates for first class mechanics from 1.57 to $1.80.

Eighteen cents for employes of Ingalls Shipbuilding Co., on the gulf coast. This raises first class mechanics to $1.73 an hour.

Thirteen cents for west coast shipyard workers, lifting rates to $1.79 hourly on new construction and $1.93 on repair work.

At Camden, N. J., John J. Grogan, president of the CIO Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers of America, said the raise approval averted a nation-wide strike.

Louise V. Jablonski Named High Honor Graduate at Potsdam

LOUISE JABLONSKI

Miss Louise Valerie Jablonski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Jablonski, 56 Hanratty street, has been presented with an aiguillette of honor, which she will wear in recognition of her four years of outstanding scholarship, during commencement exercises June 10 at Potsdam State Teachers College of the State University of New York. A voice major in music, and an active member of the student body, Miss Jablonski participated in Phi Sigma Mu, national honorary fraternity in education; Blackfriars, honorary dramatic society, the Racquette, college newspaper; Student Government Association, finance committee. In addition she was a member of the Collegiate Singers, the Opera Workshop, Crane Chorus, and acted as chairman of various committees dealing with class activities and functions.

College authorities have been quoted saying "her superior acting ability . . . demonstrated in her remarkable dramatic performance as Julie in the Blackfriars production of Molnar's Liliom, will never be forgotten in the college. Equally excellent was her directing of the Thornton Wilder senior class play this year."

Miss Jablonski was awarded national recognition when she was selected to attend the national Phi Sigma Mu convention in Bowling Green, Ohio, where she was elected the organization's national historian, the only undergraduate officer.

Unusual recognition came again last year, when she was invited to audition for the Robert Shaw Collegiate Chorale. Miss Jablonski, however, declined the offer, preferring to complete her studies and obtain her degree.

THE TOWNSEND PLAN IN BRIEF
Under the proposed Townsend Plan, those eligible must be 60 years of age or over, or widows with dependent children, or the permanently disabled. They may not be gainfully employed while receiving this annuity. But they may own property from which they receive rents, and they may have money in bank accounts or other investments. With their annuity receipts they may purchase a house, a car, or any article they desire. They must spend their annuity every 30 days. The Townsend Plan in operation would eradicate Poverty and Unemployment forever, from our Land. America was Founded on Freedoms: Freedom of Speech and of the Press, Freedom to Worship as one pleases, and, believing that all men are created equal, we established Freedom from Slavery. Dr. Francis E. Townsend is seeking to establish Freedom from Want and Poverty. Help him accomplish this by joining Kingston Townsend Club No. 1, meeting the 2nd and 4th Wednesdays monthly, at Mechanics' Hall, 14 Henry street. For further information call, Mrs. Mildred Stoller, 5672-W.

Louise V. Jablonski Named High Honor Graduate at Potsdam

LOUISE JABLONSKI

Miss Louise Valerie Jablonski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Jablonski, 56 Hanratty street, has been presented with an aiguillette of honor, which she will wear in recognition of her four years of outstanding scholarship, during commencement exercises June 10 at Potsdam State Teachers College of the State University of New York. Miss Jablonski will receive her bachelor of science degree in music education from the Crane School of Music, there.

A voice major in music, and an active member of the student body, Miss Jablonski participated in Phi Sigma Mu, national honorary fraternity in education; Blackfriars, honorary dramatic society, the Racquette, college newspaper; Student Government Association, finance committee. In addition she was a member of the Collegiate Singers, the Opera Workshop, Crane Chorus, and acted as chairman of various committees dealing with class activities and functions.

College authorities have been quoted saying "her superior acting ability . . . demonstrated in her remarkable dramatic performance as Julie in the Blackfriars production of Molnar's Liliom, will never be forgotten in the college. Equally excellent was her directing of the Thornton Wilder senior class play this year."

Miss Jablonski was awarded national recognition when she was selected to attend the national Phi Sigma Mu convention in Bowling Green, Ohio, where she was elected the organization's national historian, the only undergraduate officer.

Unusual recognition came again last year, when she was invited to audition for the Robert Shaw Collegiate Chorale. Miss Jablonski, however, declined the offer, preferring to complete her studies and obtain her degree.

Colonials Edge Amsterdam, 3-2; Group Pledges $1,000 to Hold Club

Action Stirs to Forestall Foldup; Ayers and Niro Combine for Win

Playing like young men who had just had yokes removed from their necks, our Colonials flashed one of the best games of the season before 187 of the faithful, last night at municipal stadium.

Backing Charlie Ayers with brilliant support in the field, they toppled the Little Yankees of Amsterdam, 3 to 2, in a snappy contest that was reeled off in one hour, 50 minutes.

It was the Colonials' fifth victory of the season and was achieved in a backdrop of intriguing front office and league developments.

(A Kingston Baseball Club, Inc., spokesman said today that a group of local fans last night pledged "at least $1,000" to keep the Can-Am franchise in Kingston. The Colonial official said other pledges were expected momentarily. Whether they would be great enough to forestall the departure of the Colonials from Kingston on June 14 will not be known until the deadline. The names of persons who have pledged the thousand dollars were not disclosed).

Meanwhile, Albert J. Houghton, of Schenectady, president of the Canadian-American League, said last night that the league would take over the operation of the club temporarily if no replacement were found by the end of the week. He said a Rutland, Vt. group had expressed interest in joining.

Utica Likely

The Gloversville franchise was reported "safe" today. The Glover management opened the gates of the park to the public for free on Wednesday night and nearly 3,000 fans stormed through the turnstiles. Enough public interest was aroused to save the team.

Although Rutland, Vt., has figured prominently in speculation concerning a possible replacement for Kingston, all signs seem to point to Utica, N. Y., as the sixth team, when and if.

Utica lost its Eastern League franchise to Schenectady this year and a split in sports fans of the city stymied hopes for a Can-Am franchise in that city. The press and radio and other groups were on opposite sides of the fence on the issue and no agreement could be reached. The bitter feeling is said to have subsided and Utica is believed ready to return to organized baseball.

Ayers Wins

Young Charlie Ayers joined Vince Canepa, Frank Seeley and Big Bob Wenning as winning Colonial flingers with a steady seven-hit performance against the Amsterdam sluggers in last night's game.

The Colonials collected only four hits off two Rugmaker flingers but exhibited commendable economy with those four blows. Joe Niro, who has hustled impressively since his installation as catcher, delivered the coupe de grace with a two-run triple.

All the scoring was jammed into the sixth inning. The Rugmakers scored their two in the top of the sixth in this fashion: Barham was safe on Joel Kern's bobble. Willia Casanova, one of the heavy men in the batting order, rifled a triple to deep center, scoring Barham. Posipanka walked and Jones flied deep to right scoring Casanova.

The Colonials rallied in their half to jar Don Sundlove for three runs that proved sufficient unto the cause. Sundlove had permitted only one hit up to that point.

Niro Gets Big Hit

Lou Kramberg walked. Kern rapped to third and when Di Fresco dropped Posipanka's toss at second on the start of a DP, all hands were safe. Big Sam Piacentino, struggling for his first local safety, fanned on a 3 and 2 pitch, but Joe Niro blasted a triple to Kern across to tie the score at 2-2. Jack Allen walked and Red Klinger dumped a single to short center to score Niro with the winning run. Further damage was averted by Amsterdam when Bob Oliner lined to Jones at first base and Klinger was doubled off.

Tom Mollica throttled a Kingston threat in the seventh. Charlie Ayers singled to left and Dennis Healey bunted him to second. When Kramberg walked, Mollica replaced Sundlove and got Kern on a foul pop to third and Piacentino on a foul to Jones.

A beautiful throw from right field by Jack Allen cut off an Amsterdam tally in the third. Niro gave Ossie Barham a life by dropping his pop fly and the Rugmaker showed his appreciation by blasting a triple to right center. Marino then lined to Allen in right field and Jack's accurate peg nailed Barham at the plate.

Ayers was sharp and confident in his first victory of the season. He walked only two and struck out two.

Seeley or Chico

Frank Seeley or Chico Alvarado will get the call in tonight's opener of the Gloversville series.

Watzka Hurls; Tiano, Dulin Batting Stars

Club Ties Record Sets Another

Ferraro's Bowlodrome got excellent pitching from big Jack Watzka and heavy thumping by Big Ralph Tiano and Richie Dulin to overwhelm Morgan's Merchants, 12 to 3, in Thursday's City League feature at the Athletic Field.

While Watzka throttled the Merchants with five hits and struck out nine, Tiano's bat exploded with old time vigor for a single, double, homer and three RBIs.

Dulin went "3 for 4" with a double and two singles and knocked in four tallies, as the bowling alley sluggers treated a sparse gathering to one of the best batting exhibitions of the season.

Six-Run Inning

A big six-run third inning turned the game into a rout and helped the Bowlodrome equal the seasonal high for runs scored in a game and their 13 safeties topped the record for hits by one.

Hokie Tomson and Vince Clearwater were the victims of the Bowlodrome assault. Tomson was routed in the third inning as his luck continued on the bad side in the twi circuit.

Tiano, who moved into first place in the individual batting averages with a .625, doubled to right in the second and moved to third when Jack Klosterman let the ball get through him and scored on a double play.

Richie Dulin unloaded a two-run single with the bases loaded to touch off the third inning uprising. Tiano blasted one over the right field fence for two more. Fondmo, Mauro and Joe Watzka followed with successive singles for the fifth and sixth markers of the inning.

Morgan's Score

Morgan's picked up a single marker in the third on a walk to Post, Jerry Bechtold's single and a wild peg by Ferraro on a steal. The Merchants put together singles by Bechtold and Tomson, a base on balls and an error for their final tallies in the fifth.

The Bowlodrome picked up four additional runs in the last two turns at bat, doubles by Dulin and Ferraro being the key blows. J. Ferraro pounded a double and single for the Bowlodrome.

Bechtold and Hyatt accounted for four of the five hits struck off Watzka.

Messinger's Memos:

Where were the fans? The way the players were shifted reminded one of a snappy game of checkers. "Augie" Fondino earned the distinction of being the first player to appear at three different positions in one game. Big Ralph Tiano is again showing the power that has made him one of the most feared batters in the league. Richie Dulin elevated himself into a second place tie with Felipe in the individual batting race with his three hits in four trips. "Hokie" Tomson passed Billie Ball in Morgan's walk marathon, drawing three to run his total for the season to ten. Ball holds second place with eight. The Merchants stranded nine men and have reached the unbelievable total of 50 bases on balls. Forty-nine of the runners were left stranded. The regularly scheduled first half games will be completed on Tuesday evening, after which postponed games of the first half will be played off.

Bobby Locke Paces Palm Beach Golf With First Round Score of 16-Plus

Ferrier Ties For Low Medal

New Rochelle, N. Y., June 8 (AP)—As usual when the gentleman is entered, the field was out trying to catch Bobby Locke as the second round of the Palm Beach round robin golf tournament started today.

The plump-ish South African, twice a winner and once second in the event, emerged from the opening round yesterday with a point total of plus 16, four better than his closest rivals, Chick Harbert and Robert De Vicenzo, the latter a long-driving Argentinian making his first start.

The event with its complex scoring system is conducted this way:

The 16 competing players play in foursomes for five rounds, with each player in a foursome competing against each other player at medal play. Player "A", for instance, might score a 70, and player "B" a 73, giving player "A" plus 3 points and player "B" minus 3 points. The foursomes are scrambled each round so each man meets every other man during the tournament.

Following Locke, De Vicenzo and Harbtr in the scoring today were Jim Ferrier, plus 11; Fred Haas, Jr., plus 4; Lloyd Mangrum, plus 4; Jimmy Demaret, plus 4; Ed Oliver, plus 4; Jack Burke, plus 3; Johnny Palmer, even; Herman Barron, minus 4; Cary Middlecoff, minus 5; Clayton Heafner, minus 8; Henry Ransom, minus 9; Al Brosch, minus 12, and Chandler Harper, minus 32.

Locke, De Vicenzo and Mangrum had the good fortune to have Harper as the other member of the foursome, and the P.G.A. champ was sadly off his game. He had an 80, thus losing 12 points to Locke alone.

Harbert got "fat" at the expense of Brosch, who had a three over par 75.

Other medal scores for the first round included De Vicenzo 69; Harbert, 69; Oliver, 70; Haas, 70; Burke, 70; Mangrum, 71; Palmer, 71; Demaret, 71; Middlecoff, 71; Ransom, 73; Barron, 73 and Heafner, 73.

Colonials Edge Amsterdam, 3-2; Group Pledges $1,000 to Hold Club

Action Stirs to Forestall Foldup; Ayers and Niro Combine for Win

Playing like young men who had just had yokes removed from their necks, our Colonials flashed one of the best games of the season before 187 of the faithful, last night at municipal stadium.

Backing Charlie Ayers with brilliant support in the field, they toppled the Little Yankees of Amsterdam, 3 to 2, in a snappy contest that was reeled off in one hour, 50 minutes.

It was the Colonials' fifth victory of the season and was achieved in a backdrop of intriguing front office and league developments.

(A Kingston Baseball Club, Inc., spokesman said today that a group of local fans last night pledged "at least $1,000" to keep the Can-Am franchise in Kingston. The Colonial official said other pledges were expected momentarily. Whether they would be great enough to forestall the departure of the Colonials from Kingston on June 14 will not be known until the deadline. The names of persons who have pledged the thousand dollars were not disclosed).

Meanwhile, Albert J. Houghton, of Schenectady, president of the Canadian-American League, said last night that the league would take over the operation of the club temporarily if no replacement were found by the end of the week. He said a Rutland, Vt. group had expressed interest in joining.

Utica Likely

The Gloversville franchise was reported "safe" today. The Glover management opened the gates of the park to the public for free on Wednesday night and nearly 3,000 fans stormed through the turnstiles. Enough public interest was aroused to save the team.

Although Rutland, Vt., has figured prominently in speculation concerning a possible replacement for Kingston, all signs seem to point to Utica, N. Y., as the sixth team, when and if.

Utica lost its Eastern League franchise to Schenectady this year and a split in sports fans of the city stymied hopes for a Can-Am franchise in that city. The press and radio and other groups were on opposite sides of the fence on the issue and no agreement could be reached. The bitter feeling is said to have subsided and Utica is believed ready to return to organized baseball.

Ayers Wins

Young Charlie Ayers joined Vince Canepa, Frank Seeley and Big Bob Wenning as winning Colonial flingers with a steady seven-hit performance against the Amsterdam sluggers in last night's game.

The Colonials collected only four hits off two Rugmaker flingers but exhibited commendable economy with those four blows. Joe Niro, who has hustled impressively since his installation as catcher, delivered the coupe de grace with a two-run triple.

All the scoring was jammed into the sixth inning. The Rugmakers scored their two in the top of the sixth in this fashion: Barham was safe on Joel Kern's bobble. Willia Casanova, one of the heavy men in the batting order, rifled a triple to deep center, scoring Barham. Posipanka walked and Jones flied deep to right scoring Casanova.

The Colonials rallied in their half to jar Don Sundlove for three runs that proved sufficient unto the cause. Sundlove had permitted only one hit up to that point.

Niro Gets Big Hit

Lou Kramberg walked. Kern rapped to third and when Di Fresco dropped Posipanka's toss at second on the start of a DP, all hands were safe. Big Sam Piacentino, struggling for his first local safety, fanned on a 3 and 2 pitch, but Joe Niro blasted a triple to Kern across to tie the score at 2-2. Jack Allen walked and Red Klinger dumped a single to short center to score Niro with the winning run. Further damage was averted by Amsterdam when Bob Oliner lined to Jones at first base and Klinger was doubled off.

Tom Mollica throttled a Kingston threat in the seventh. Charlie Ayers singled to left and Dennis Healey bunted him to second. When Kramberg walked, Mollica replaced Sundlove and got Kern on a foul pop to third and Piacentino on a foul to Jones.

A beautiful throw from right field by Jack Allen cut off an Amsterdam tally in the third. Niro gave Ossie Barham a life by dropping his pop fly and the Rugmaker showed his appreciation by blasting a triple to right center. Marino then lined to Allen in right field and Jack's accurate peg nailed Barham at the plate.

Ayers was sharp and confident in his first victory of the season. He walked only two and struck out two.

Seeley or Chico

Frank Seeley or Chico Alvarado will get the call in tonight's opener of the Gloversville series.

Locke, De Vicenzo and Mangrum had the good fortune to have Harper as the other member of the foursome, and the P.G.A. champ was sadly off his game. He had an 80, thus losing 12 points to Locke alone.

Harbert got "fat" at the expense of Brosch, who had a three over par 75.

Other medal scores for the first round included De Vicenzo 69; Harbert, 69; Oliver, 70; Haas, 70; Burke, 70; Mangrum, 71; Palmer, 71; Demaret, 71; Middlecoff, 71; Ransom, 73; Barron, 73 and Heafner, 73.

The Scoreboard

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Fritz Dorish is the latest "waiver waif" to burst out as a shutout starter for the incredible Chicago White Sox.

Paul Richards has a new trick every day in the greatest sleight-of-hand job since Thurston sawed his last woman in two. And the end is not in sight. You wouldn't be too surprised if he pitched catcher Gus Niarhos against the Yankees and got away with it.

He yanked Dorish out of the hat yesterday—his first start after nine turns in the bullpen. But what need has Richards for a bullpen? His starters go the route every day. This was the Sox's 24th complete pitching job.

Dorish's neat five-hitter against Washington, 5-0, was Chicago's sixth shutout and 20th win in the last 22 starts. No wonder they lead the American League by a robust 4½ game margin.

The Sox confused the Senators with their amazing speed and daring behind a nine-hit attack. Stealing three bases in six attempts, they gave Julio Moreno, Joe Haynes and Sandy Consuegra the jitters. It was the Sox's sixth straight on their new string and the Senators' 16th loss in their last 18 games.

Yanks Edge Browns

The New York Yankees barely averted another disaster in St. Louis, rallying with three in the ninth to pull out a 7-5 decision. The result left the world champs 4½ games behind Chicago as they move into Comiskey Park for a four-game set.

Bobby Brown's double tied the score in the ninth and Ralph Houk won it with a two-run single with Yogi Berra sidelined by a pre-game injury. Charley Silvera and Houk split the Yank catching duties. Berra was hit over the eye in a relay throwing contest.

Boston snapped its five-game losing streak at Detroit, 5-3, as Dom DiMaggio kept his 27-game hitting streak alive and won the game with one blow. Dom singled to left with the bases full and the score tied in the eighth to hang the loss on Ted Gray.

Big Luke Easter led Cleveland back on the win path after two defeats with a three-run homer for a 6-3 edge over Philadelphia. Although nicked for 12 hits, Lou Brissie made his old mates become his first victims of the year.

Dodgers Clicking

While the star-dusted White Sox stole the headlines, Brooklyn quietly piled up a 6½ game lead in the National. At the rate they're going they may sew it up by Labor Day.

No waiver pitchers. No unknowns busting down fences. Just the same professionals who did it in '47 and '49 and may do it again.

Preacher Roe, the Brooks' meal ticket, skinned home with another one-run win, 2-1, over St. Louis. It was his eighth straight of an unbeaten season and fifth by one run.

The Cards outhit the Dodgers nine to five but a ninth inning single by Carl Furillo with the bases loaded, score tied and none out broke up the game. It was a toughie for rookie Tom Poholsky who had a three hitter going to the ninth when he filled the bases with two walks and a single.

The enterprising Cincinnati Reds knocked off New York again, 3-4, to move into a second place tie with St. Louis. It's the Reds' best road trip in years, 6-2 against the east so far. Virgil Stallcup's three-run homer off Dave Koslo in the fifth, giving the Reds a 5-1 lead at the time, proved decisive.

Bubba Church pitched the Phils to a 7-1 romp over Chicago, allowing five hits for his sixth win. Vern Bickford kept six Pittsburgh hits scattered in earning his eighth win for the Boston Braves, 5-0.

Notre Dame-Penn Revolt Stirs Rhubarb In NCAA Ruling on Football TV Setup

New York, June 8 (AP)—College athletic ranks threatened to split wide open today if Notre Dame decides to join the University of Pennsylvania in ignoring the National Collegiate Athletic Association's ban on unrestricted televising of home football games.

The Irish's athletic board, composed of seven faculty members and Fred Steers and Judge Roger Kiley of Chicago, met today to consider the problem that has been high in college athletic discussions since the 1950 decline in attendance.

Informed sources said the council probably would decide to televise the four home games at South Bend, Ind., but might delay in making an immediate decision. In that event a committee probably would be named to survey the situation.

Notre Dame plays Indiana, Southern Methodist, Purdue and Iowa at home. The Dumont network has carried Notre Dame home games the last two years. The university was said to have received $185,000 for the TV rights last season.

If Notre Dame joins Penn in breaking away from the NCAA plan of televising only one major game weekly in various sections of the country, then army may be expected to join the revolt.

Col. Orrin C. Kreuger, Army graduate manager of athletics, said the military academy may put its own games on the screen "if everything breaks wide open." Army has a gridiron date with Penn on Franklin Field November 17.

Meantime, the NCAA answered Penn's defy in a presidential ruling that Penn is "a member not in good standing."

The effect of ruling is that Penn will not be permitted to compete in any NCAA sponsored events. The edict, however, does not apply to football games.

The Scoreboard

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Fritz Dorish is the latest "waiver waif" to burst out as a shutout starter for the incredible Chicago White Sox.

Paul Richards has a new trick every day in the greatest sleight-of-hand job since Thurston sawed his last woman in two. And the end is not in sight. You wouldn't be too surprised if he pitched catcher Gus Niarhos against the Yankees and got away with it.

He yanked Dorish out of the hat yesterday—his first start after nine turns in the bullpen. But what need has Richards for a bullpen? His starters go the route every day. This was the Sox's 24th complete pitching job.

Dorish's neat five-hitter against Washington, 5-0, was Chicago's sixth shutout and 20th win in the last 22 starts. No wonder they lead the American League by a robust 4½ game margin.

The Sox confused the Senators with their amazing speed and daring behind a nine-hit attack. Stealing three bases in six attempts, they gave Julio Moreno, Joe Haynes and Sandy Consuegra the jitters. It was the Sox's sixth straight on their new string and the Senators' 16th loss in their last 18 games.

Yanks Edge Browns

The New York Yankees barely averted another disaster in St. Louis, rallying with three in the ninth to pull out a 7-5 decision. The result left the world champs 4½ games behind Chicago as they move into Comiskey Park for a four-game set.

Bobby Brown's double tied the score in the ninth and Ralph Houk won it with a two-run single with Yogi Berra sidelined by a pre-game injury. Charley Silvera and Houk split the Yank catching duties. Berra was hit over the eye in a relay throwing contest.

Boston snapped its five-game losing streak at Detroit, 5-3, as Dom DiMaggio kept his 27-game hitting streak alive and won the game with one blow. Dom singled to left with the bases full and the score tied in the eighth to hang the loss on Ted Gray.

Big Luke Easter led Cleveland back on the win path after two defeats with a three-run homer for a 6-3 edge over Philadelphia. Although nicked for 12 hits, Lou Brissie made his old mates become his first victims of the year.

Dodgers Clicking

While the star-dusted White Sox stole the headlines, Brooklyn quietly piled up a 6½ game lead in the National. At the rate they're going they may sew it up by Labor Day.

No waiver pitchers. No unknowns busting down fences. Just the same professionals who did it in '47 and '49 and may do it again.

Preacher Roe, the Brooks' meal ticket, skinned home with another one-run win, 2-1, over St. Louis. It was his eighth straight of an unbeaten season and fifth by one run.

The Cards outhit the Dodgers nine to five but a ninth inning single by Carl Furillo with the bases loaded, score tied and none out broke up the game. It was a toughie for rookie Tom Poholsky who had a three hitter going to the ninth when he filled the bases with two walks and a single.

The enterprising Cincinnati Reds knocked off New York again, 5-4, to move into a second place tie with St. Louis. It's the Reds' best road trip in years, 6-2 against the east so far. Virgil Stallcup's three-run homer off Dave Koslo in the fifth, giving the Reds a 5-1 lead at the time, proved decisive.

Bubba Church pitched the Phils to a 7-1 romp over Chicago, allowing five hits for his sixth win. Vern Bickford kept six Pittsburgh hits scattered in earning his eighth win for the Boston Braves, 5-0.

Notre Dame-Penn Revolt Stirs Rhubarb In NCAA Ruling on Football TV Setup

New York, June 8 (AP)—College athletic ranks threatened to split wide open today if Notre Dame decides to join the University of Pennsylvania in ignoring the National Collegiate Athletic Association's ban on unrestricted televising of home football games.

The Irish's athletic board, composed of seven faculty members and Fred Steers and Judge Roger Kiley of Chicago, met today to consider the problem that has been high in college athletic discussions since the 1950 decline in attendance.

Informed sources said the council probably would decide to televise the four home games at South Bend, Ind., but might delay in making an immediate decision. In that event a committee probably would be named to survey the situation.

Notre Dame plays Indiana, Southern Methodist, Purdue and Iowa at home. The Dumont network has carried Notre Dame home games the last two years. The university was said to have received $185,000 for the TV rights last season.

If Notre Dame joins Penn in breaking away from the NCAA plan of televising only one major game weekly in various sections of the country, then army may be expected to join the revolt.

Col. Orrin C. Kreuger, Army graduate manager of athletics, said the military academy may put its own games on the screen "if everything breaks wide open." Army has a gridiron date with Penn on Franklin Field November 17.

Meantime, the NCAA answered Penn's defy in a presidential ruling that Penn is "a member not in good standing."

The effect of ruling is that Penn will not be permitted to compete in any NCAA sponsored events. The edict, however, does not apply to football games.

Mastering these fundamentals is the basis of golf.

There are two predominate grips—the overlapping and the interlocking.

A few use neither, preferring to keep their hands apart. Others use a combination of both. But the greater number use one or the other, perhaps with slight variations.

Your hands determine the type of grip. With my large hands, it is the overlapping. Many with smaller hands find success with the interlocking, but if you have the natural physical asset of large hands you can use them to best advantage with the overlapping grip.

The correct use of the right hand in the overlapping grip is as follows:

Place the third finger against the index finger of the left hand, with the little finger placed across the second joint of the index finger.

Unlike the left hand, the grip of the right hand should be concentrated in the first three fingers.

The interlocking grip is the same, except that the index finger of the left hand and the little finger of the right are interlocked.

As I wrote in the P. G. A. Teachers' Guide, the important thing to remember in choosing the best grip for yourself is that your hands must work as a team.

Although the right hand applies the force or drive to the stroke for the most part, while the left generally is conceded to be the control hand, neither works independently of the other.

NEXT: Jimmy Demaret points out that a bad mistake is relaxing the last three fingers of the left hand at the top of the swing, when the wrists are fully cocked.

GUIDE—The thumb and index finger of the left hand should form a V pointing to the right shoulder. (NEA)

Mayor Will Open Kiddie Railroad

A complete railroad train is scheduled to be unloaded at D-D's Drive In on the Saugerties road Saturday, and Monday evening, June 11, at 7 p. m. Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk will officially open the Kiddieland Express.

Along with the mayor of the City of Kingston, Town of Ulster and New York Central Railroad officials are planning to be present at the opening ceremonies.

The miniature train, which will haul both children and adults around the grounds of the D-D's Drive-In, is designed from the latest blue-prints of diesel trains. It will run on a track that has been laid by a regular New York Central Railroad section crew, and the scenery along the right-of-way will include a tunnel and other features usually found along railroad tracks.

Mayor Will Open Kiddie Railroad

A complete railroad train is scheduled to be unloaded at D-D's Drive In on the Saugerties road Saturday, and Monday evening, June 11, at 7 p. m. Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk will officially open the Kiddieland Express.

Along with the mayor of the City of Kingston, Town of Ulster and New York Central Railroad officials are planning to be present at the opening ceremonies.

The miniature train, which will haul both children and adults around the grounds of the D-D's Drive-In, is designed from the latest blue-prints of diesel trains. It will run on a track that has been laid by a regular New York Central Railroad section crew, and the scenery along the right-of-way will include a tunnel and other features usually found along railroad tracks.

School No. 1 . . .

school, she said, the overhead cost would be lowered. Property in the area would be damaged if the school were closed. It would probably mean people there now would leave the area and new people would not buy property in the locality when it was known there was no school. Inquiry was also made as to why the cafeteria was closed and why no kindergarten was provided at No. 1. The answer was that these programs lacked support. The last year the cafeteria was operated only a half dozen students used it and the cost was high.

It was estimated by members of the board that $7,000 or more would be saved by closing the school and transporting the pupils to No. 8 and later the Washington school, and in addition they would be receiving a better opportunity for education than could be offered at the two-room school in Wilbur.

Alderman Cole advanced the idea of using the four rooms in the school to capacity by bringing in students from other areas, he stressed the individual attention now given the pupils and said people would hesitate to move in the area without a school and if the school is closed present residents might move to be closer to a school. This would mean a loss in population and in property values in the area.

Herzog Advances Motion

The motion to close the school was advanced by Trustee Herzog and seconded by Trustee Baltz. In discussion on the motion it was stated the cost of maintaining No. 1 school was over $12,000 and with transportation costing $3,500 to transport the students to other buildings, there would be a saving of $7,000 and the students would receive full opportunity which is now offered at No. 1. The resolution pointed out that the action was being taken principally to give the Wilbur students facilities which they are now deprive of, including the lunch program, individual grade instruction etc. The resolution was unanimously adopted.

Arthur W. Ortlieb was named head janitor at the high school, he being second man on the civil service list. Louise A. Hayes was named janitress and Archie Huestis was named janitor, they being the only ones certified.

A recommendation that a City Council be formed from among the members of the Kingston Teachers Federation, was offered in a communication from the Kingston Teachers' Association.

Trustee Leehive for the finance committee offered a resolution authorizing drawing of warrants in payment of the May payroll and vouchers in the sum of $141,811.80; also warrants for FDA School Lunch program payroll and vouchers for April in the sum of $8,953.08 and for May $8,491.41; also warrants for On-the-Farm Training program payroll and vouchers for May in the sum of $1,056.92. Carried.

A resolution was approved amending the school budget by inserting $82,000 for non-resident tuition in place of the figure first placed in the budget prior to an increase in non-resident tuition. The original estimate had been $42,000. This additional $40,000 was credited to the new school building fund in the budget, making that figure in the amended budget $240,000 instead of $200,000. This amendment does not change the amount to be raised by direct tax or the tax rate which remains at $19.40. The budget was then adopted.

Mills & Ward, New York certified public accounting firm which is employed by the city, was engaged to set up a set of books under the new state law requirements and to audit the books of the board for the past year at a cost of not to exceed $600.

Trustee Herzog of the building committee reported that work at No. 5 school, damaged by fire, was progressing under direction of the school mechanics. When completed the lunch room will be brought up stairs, a new roof will be installed and asphalt tile will be placed on the floor of three rooms and the hall. It was brought out that had the doors of the rooms been closed, damage would have been less at the time of the fire. An order has been posted directing that all doors be closed at night when schools are closed.

A report was given on work progress at the Washington school. Electrical work is delaying the job and it is almost an assured fact that the school will not be ready for use until late in the fall or early winter.

The matter of opening School No. 1 grounds for use evenings was referred to the Building committee with power. It was brought out that a portion of the ball area now used is not on school property and could be closed off by the owner if so desired.

It was stated by the Athletic Committee that there may be set up in the MJM school this fall a football schedule for the 7th and 8th grade classes. This will give the players at that school actual game experience prior to entering high school. The cost may run about $2,000 to equip the teams.

The board voted to ask for an extension for Arthur Boughton, who under civil service should retire on June 30. His services are needed the members felt and another year extension will be sought.

A request was received from the senior class for permission to hold the annual class prom at Wiltwyck Club. The board adopted a resolution to the effect that all school sponsored dances be held on school property.

The board appropriated $1,500 for establishment of a citizenship and family relations program in the school.

There was a discussion on advisability of the board purchasing a bus to transport the athletic teams and special classes. It was stated a considerable amount could probably be saved on transportation if the board operated its own bus. The matter was referred to the building committee. Such a bus could transport the football team, basketball team, track team, etc., to games and meets and the bus could also be used to transport special classes on field trips.

Under the new law governing boards of education which becomes effective July 1, 1951, it is necessary for the board to organize shortly after that time. The board will meet at 5:30 p. m. July 2 for that purpose.

A financial report of the vocational school receipts was received showing total deposits of $1,408.38 to May 14.

UN Pound . . .

The town itself was already flattened.

Long toms and thundering howitzers centered on the roadway to Komhaw, and on Chinese in hills before Chorwon.

Rain Slows Advance

A driving rainstorm Friday slowed the allied ground advance.

The Reds tried to stem the attack Thursday by opening one of the 14 gates in Chorwon dam. A two foot wall of water swept down the Hantan river but failed to knock out any allied bridges.

The flood subsided quickly and the river waters were back to normal Friday.

A U. N. briefing officer called the flood attempt "a good sign.

"It showed how desperately they want to hold Chorwon and the important lateral road it commands," he explained.

If the Reds withdraw, officers said, they would be capable of fighting a month-long withdrawal as they pull back to a new line, probably anchored on Wonsan.

Red trucks still streamed south with more supplies. And the Chinese still have much heavy equipment in the Chorwon-Kumhwa-Pyongyang triangle.

A delayed dispatch from AP Correspondent Jim Becker indicated how fiercely the Chinese fought to defend Chorwon's outer approaches.

He said stacks of Chinese dead and tons of equipment littered captured hills.

Find Dead in Stacks

A regimental officer said "the key to the whole area was one hill that went straight up one crag and straight down the other. We took the hill five times and each time we were counterattacked and pushed back.

"The sixth time we took the hill and kept it."

He said 800 Chinese dead lay on one slope.

It was in this fight the Chinese unveiled the new anti-tank gun. Becker described it as a long snouted 57mm. weapon that fires shells that pierce five inches of solid steel plate.

The barrel of the gun is nine feet long and the shells whistle from its mouth at terrific speed.

U. N. troops captured them. Becker said they bore new Russian tires, but they weren't as good as some American made tires on a big Chinese mortar, also captured.

Allied officers repeated that if Chrowon falls, all of the "iron triangle" will fall. The lands are flat, easily covered by tanks.

On the eastern front, AP Correspondent George McArthur said, allied troops were harrassed through the night by heavy mortar fire.

One officer on the front said it was the steadiest Red fire of the war.

Collections Bring $3,100

The city's total parking meter collections in May was $3,100. This was $50 more than the April total and $400 less than the total for May, 1950.

School No. 1 . . .

school, she said, the overhead cost would be lowered. Property in the area would be damaged if the school were closed. It would probably mean people there now would leave the area and new people would not buy property in the locality when it was known there was no school. Inquiry was also made as to why the cafeteria was closed and why no kindergarten was provided at No. 1. The answer was that these programs lacked support. The last year the cafeteria was operated only a half dozen students used it and the cost was high.

It was estimated by members of the board that $7,000 or more would be saved by closing the school and transporting the pupils to No. 8 and later the Washington school, and in addition they would be receiving a better opportunity for education than could be offered at the two-room school in Wilbur.

Alderman Cole advanced the idea of using the four rooms in the school to capacity by bringing in students from other areas, he stressed the individual attention now given the pupils and said people would hesitate to move in the area without a school and if the school is closed present residents might move to be closer to a school. This would mean a loss in population and in property values in the area.

Herzog Advances Motion

The motion to close the school was advanced by Trustee Herzog and seconded by Trustee Baltz. In discussion on the motion it was stated the cost of maintaining No. 1 school was over $12,000 and with transportation costing $3,500 to transport the students to other buildings, there would be a saving of $7,000 and the students would receive full opportunity which is now offered at No. 1. The resolution pointed out that the action was being taken principally to give the Wilbur students facilities which they are now deprive of, including the lunch program, individual grade instruction etc. The resolution was unanimously adopted.

Arthur W. Ortlieb was named head janitor at the high school, he being second man on the civil service list. Louise A. Hayes was named janitress and Archie Huestis was named janitor, they being the only ones certified.

A recommendation that a City Council be formed from among the members of the Kingston Teachers Federation, was offered in a communication from the Kingston Teachers' Association.

Trustee Leehive for the finance committee offered a resolution authorizing drawing of warrants in payment of the May payroll and vouchers in the sum of $141,811.80; also warrants for FDA School Lunch program payroll and vouchers for April in the sum of $8,953.08 and for May $8,491.41; also warrants for On-the-Farm Training program payroll and vouchers for May in the sum of $1,056.92. Carried.

A resolution was approved amending the school budget by inserting $82,000 for non-resident tuition in place of the figure first placed in the budget prior to an increase in non-resident tuition. The original estimate had been $42,000. This additional $40,000 was credited to the new school building fund in the budget, making that figure in the amended budget $240,000 instead of $200,000. This amendment does not change the amount to be raised by direct tax or the tax rate which remains at $19.40. The budget was then adopted.

Mills & Ward, New York certified public accounting firm which is employed by the city, was engaged to set up a set of books under the new state law requirements and to audit the books of the board for the past year at a cost of not to exceed $600.

Trustee Herzog of the building committee reported that work at No. 5 school, damaged by fire, was progressing under direction of the school mechanics. When completed the lunch room will be brought up stairs, a new roof will be installed and asphalt tile will be placed on the floor of three rooms and the hall. It was brought out that had the doors of the rooms been closed, damage would have been less at the time of the fire. An order has been posted directing that all doors be closed at night when schools are closed.

A report was given on work progress at the Washington school. Electrical work is delaying the job and it is almost an assured fact that the school will not be ready for use until late in the fall or early winter.

The matter of opening School No. 1 grounds for use evenings was referred to the Building committee with power. It was brought out that a portion of the ball area now used is not on school property and could be closed off by the owner if so desired.

It was stated by the Athletic Committee that there may be set up in the MJM school this fall a football schedule for the 7th and 8th grade classes. This will give the players at that school actual game experience prior to entering high school. The cost may run about $2,000 to equip the teams.

The board voted to ask for an extension for Arthur Boughton, who under civil service should retire on June 30. His services are needed the members felt and another year extension will be sought.

A request was received from the senior class for permission to hold the annual class prom at Wiltwyck Club. The board adopted a resolution to the effect that all school sponsored dances be held on school property.

The board appropriated $1,500 for establishment of a citizenship and family relations program in the school.

There was a discussion on advisability of the board purchasing a bus to transport the athletic teams and special classes. It was stated a considerable amount could probably be saved on transportation if the board operated its own bus. The matter was referred to the building committee. Such a bus could transport the football team, basketball team, track team, etc., to games and meets and the bus could also be used to transport special classes on field trips.

Under the new law governing boards of education which becomes effective July 1, 1951, it is necessary for the board to organize shortly after that time. The board will meet at 5:30 p. m. July 2 for that purpose.

A financial report of the vocational school receipts was received showing total deposits of $1,408.38 to May 14.

UN Pound . . .

The town itself was already flattened.

Long toms and thundering howitzers centered on the roadway to Komhaw, and on Chinese in hills before Chorwon.

Rain Slows Advance

A driving rainstorm Friday slowed the allied ground advance.

The Reds tried to stem the attack Thursday by opening one of the 14 gates in Chorwon dam. A two foot wall of water swept down the Hantan river but failed to knock out any allied bridges.

The flood subsided quickly and the river waters were back to normal Friday.

A U. N. briefing officer called the flood attempt "a good sign.

"It showed how desperately they want to hold Chorwon and the important lateral road it commands," he explained.

If the Reds withdraw, officers said, they would be capable of fighting a month-long withdrawal as they pull back to a new line, probably anchored on Wonsan.

Red trucks still streamed south with more supplies. And the Chinese still have much heavy equipment in the Chorwon-Kumhwa-Pyongyang triangle.

A delayed dispatch from AP Correspondent Jim Becker indicated how fiercely the Chinese fought to defend Chorwon's outer approaches.

He said stacks of Chinese dead and tons of equipment littered captured hills.

Find Dead in Stacks

A regimental officer said "the key to the whole area was one hill that went straight up one crag and straight down the other. We took the hill five times and each time we were counterattacked and pushed back.

'The sixth time we took the hill and kept it."

He said 800 Chinese dead lay on one slope.

It was in this fight the Chinese unveiled the new anti-tank gun. Becker described it as a long snouted 57mm. weapon that fires shells that pierce five inches of solid steel plate.

The barrel of the gun is nine feet long and the shells whistle from its mouth at terrific speed.

U. N. troops captured them. Becker said they bore new Russian tires, but they weren't as good as some American made tires on a big Chinese mortar, also captured.

Allied officers repeated that if Chrowon falls, all of the "iron triangle" will fall. The lands are flat, easily covered by tanks.

On the eastern front, AP Correspondent George McArthur said, allied troops were harrassed through the night by heavy mortar fire.

One officer on the front said it was the steadiest Red fire of the war.

Collections Bring $3,100

The city's total parking meter collections in May was $3,100. This was $50 more than the April total and $400 less than the total for May, 1950.
